LIVELY RUNAWAY

Several Persons Had Narrow
Escapes From Injury

Quite a spectacular runaway occurred in Central street shortly after the noon hour today. The horse came to grief when it turned the corner from Central to Merrimack street. The horse was attached to a wagon marked A. P. C. Compressed Yeast Co. It was somewhere in Central street that the horse decided to see how it stood as a runner and it was making good, so far as speed is concerned, until it reached Merrimack street, where it slipped and went over on its back. Robert Hollingworth was Johnnie on the spot. He made for the horse's head and held it down until the harness was removed. One of the horse's legs was badly scratched. No other damage was done. There were a few narrow escapes from serious injury, however, and had the horse retained its feet it would have sailed into the store on the opposite side of the street. It was almost a miracle that a number of people were on the sidewalk in front of the store. Had the horse rushed onto the sidewalk there is no telling what might have happened in the way of accident.

POWERFUL WEAPON

Given Inspectors to Fight The Bob Veal Traffic

BOSTON, June 9.—A powerful weapon was placed in the hands of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals yesterday when Gov. Draper signed the bill allowing the agents of the society to visit all slaughter houses in this state for the purpose of detecting and punishing all violations of the law.

Through this bill, which becomes a law in 30 days, the society believes it will be able to stamp out the "bob" traffic in Massachusetts, which has defied the efforts of the local health boards, in whose hands the enforcement of slaughtering laws has practically been vested.

"That the effect of this law will be sweeping in the interest of public welfare is agreed by all those who have come in personal contact with the problem now existing in slaughtering places in Massachusetts. It is a known fact that many illicit places are being conducted in this state, and the enforcement of the present regulations being in the hands of the local health authorities with insufficient and inexperienced force at their disposal has made it easy for such places to operate."

At the headquarters of the society on Milk street the officials were exultant over the victory in the passage of their bill. Recalled from the governor for an amendment, it stood in imminent peril of being killed by the house, when the senate reconsidered and sent it back to the governor to sign as it stood. The bill now reads:

"The agents of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may visit all places at which meat cattle, sheep, swine or other animals are delivered for transportation or are slaughtered, for the purpose of preventing violations of any law and of detecting and punishing the same; with power to prosecute any such violation coming to their notice. Any person who prevents, obstructs or interferes with any such agent in the performance of such duties shall be liable to the penalty provided by section seven of chapter fifty-six of the Revised Laws."

The officers of the society last evening declared that one of the worst features in their duties is their inability to reach the butchers who do illicit slaughtering. It requires a search warrant to get their premises. As the bulk of the business is conducted in the night time, about the only way to get the evidence is a rush upon them while in operation.

"This bill will add to our power in continuing the war against the unjust 'bob veal' traffic. It is a vindication of our right in this business," declared President Francis H. Rowley yesterday. "We believe," he said, "it will enable us to stamp out the 'bob veal' industry in this state, and put an end to an inhuman traffic."

While exposing the horse meat industry, which was sold in Boston in the face of the Boston board of health authorities, even as the "bob veal," several illicit places were visited by reporters.

Their owners declared they were hardly ever molested, as the enforcement of the laws in this business was directly under the power of the local boards of health, of which there is usually one officer to a town or city.

THE KELIHER CASE

The Defense Continued its Effort to Discredit Coleman

BOSTON, June 9.—The defense in the trial of W. J. Kelher had several remaining witnesses ready to put on the stand when court opened in a federal building today. Kelher, who is charged with aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in the application of the funds of the wrecked National City bank of Cambridge, would testify in his own behalf, it was said, and would probably be the last witness called.

The defense continued its effort to discredit Coleman and also to maintain its claim that Kelher was ignorant of the source of Coleman's money supply. Joseph F. Gately, a chauffeur who took Coleman and two women to Kelher's house in Winthrop after the bank closed, testified that while coming back he talked with Coleman and the latter said that Kelher did not know that he (Coleman) was taking money from the bank. Coleman said that he expected to get fifteen years, "and I am going to take Kelher along with me as well as some others." Coleman paid the chauffeur $15 from a big roll of bills although the charge was only $4. This was after Coleman's arrest. In his testimony as a witness for the government Coleman stated that he went twice to Kelher in order to get back some of the bank's money. In contradiction of Coleman's statement that he had no dealings with the attorney for a few days relative to certain notes, C. F. Johnson, a lawyer, testified that Coleman came to his office with the jewelry and wanted to settle up the matter.

The defense then took up the John R. Marshall phase of the case. It was the government's claim that Marshall was a fictitious name given by Kelher or his friend, Martin Walsh, and that acting under that name Kelher hired offices and sent money to Coleman. The defense admitted its inability to locate the real Marshall but placed several witnesses on the stand who claimed that they knew such a person, that he agreed with the government's description but that he was not Kelher nor Walsh. One witness was with Marshall and Kelher when $200 was sent in Marshall's name to Coleman at Kansas City.

Other witnesses saw Marshall at 5 Beacon street, where he had an office, and they also saw Kelher there with him. The last seen of Marshall was when he was about to start for Chicago.

Although the damage will be very heavy the representatives of the company were unable to state approximately the extent of their loss.

ROOSEVELT DAY

Immense Throng Expected at Reception to Ex-President

NEW YORK, June 9.—Responses to the invitations sent out by the Roosevelt reception committee indicate that a large number of distinguished persons will welcome the ex-president when he returns from abroad Saturday morning, June 18.

Elaborate preparations have been made by the committee, which expects an enormous throng at Battery park, and by the police department, which anticipates a record-breaking crowd.

Among those who have accepted invitations to sit on the stand are Gov. Henry B. Quinn of New Hampshire, Gov. Franklin B. Hoar of New Jersey, U. S. Senator F. P. Flint of California, Dr. Charles F. Smith, commissioner of labor, Lawrence G. Murray, controller of the currency, Senator H. C. Lodge of Massachusetts, Representative Hamilton Fish, Henry M. Golding, William Sulzer, Herbert Parsons, W. W. Cocks and C. V. Barnes of New York, and John W. Langley of Kentucky. Edward R. O'Malley, attorney general of New York, Alfred H. Cheney, superintendent of banks, Clifford Pinchot, ex-chief forester, Dr. L. S. Rowe of the American academy of political science, Gen. Luke E. Wright, ex-secretary of the navy, Fire Commissioner Waldo and Banker T. Washington.

Cutters Down the Bay

William K. Loch, Jr., collector of the customs, has arranged with the governor for a detail of four revenue cutters to go down the bay when Col. Roosevelt arrives. They are the Albatross, which will carry the members of the committee; the Mohawk, which will have on board a delegation of congressmen and other distinguished persons in Washington; the Manhattan, which will be devoted to friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt; and the fleet Scaevola, which will be turned over to newspaper correspondents and photographers.

Among those who will probably go down the bay on the Manhattan are Rear Admiral and Mrs. W. E. Cowles and W. S. Cowles, Jr., of Farmington, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. T. Douglas Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt and G. Hall Roosevelt of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alport of Woodford farm, Avon, Conn.; Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.; Miss Eleanor B. Alexander, his fiancée; and Mrs. H. A. Alexander, his sister. Also present will be Miss L. S. Haggard, Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary; Representative Nicholas Longworth; who will meet his wife; Mr. and Mrs. W. Dutton Roosevelt and George E. Roosevelt of New York.

Reception Stand

It has been decided to raise the small stand from which Mayor Gaynor and Col. Roosevelt will speak high enough to permit all those within the range of vision to see the men. It has also been arranged that the mayor shall meet Col. Roosevelt at the foot of the steps of this stand and mount it with him. The reception committee will follow Col. Roosevelt off the boat and take place in the reserved enclosure.

This enclosure will also be occupied by upward of 2000 invited guests. After the speeches, the police will make a path along the western edge of the enclosure and through this Col. Roosevelt, Mayor Gaynor and Chairman Vanderbilt, who will occupy the first carriage, will be followed by the committee men, who will also occupy carriages. Cards will be given committee men, showing the number of the carriage to be occupied by each, so that there will be no confusion in starting the procession.

MANY NOTABLES TO SAIL

NEW YORK, June 9.—More than 700 cabin passengers, including many notable persons, will embark on the steamship Kaiserin Augusta Victoria with Col. Roosevelt and family on June 10. Cable advices received here yesterday by the line give the plans for Col. Roosevelt's departure.

He will be accompanied by Sir Edward Grey and will walk from New Forest, to Southampton station, where he will board the special train, which will convey him, Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit, Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth from London. The party will occupy the royal saloon on the train and at Southampton a special tender will convey them to the steamship anchored in the Solent.

ABERNATHY ARRIVES

NEW YORK, June 9.—John R. Abernathy, U. S. marshal from Oklahoma, is in town. He has come here to meet Theodore Roosevelt on his return from abroad and to be with the boys when they stop it up on June 18. The marshal is the man who catches the elusive wolf with his bare hands, and he is the advance guard of the rough riding cowboy cohorts who are coming to join in the big show.

"Eat 'em alive Jack" was at the hotel Breslin yesterday when a reporter called to ask him about his two boys, who are on the last stretch of their remarkable horseback ride from Oklahoma to New York. The papers have recently been filled with accounts of the exploits of the Abernathy kids, Louis, who is 19, and Temple, 18, and Marshal Jack shines just now in the reflected glory of his offspring.

"I am waiting for a message now," he said, "which will tell me of their progress from Baltimore. The boys have sent me a card from each place they have stopped in and several long letters. These boys were brought up on horseback. Louis can ride anything I can, and I have seen him on some mighty wicked horses. He has never been thrown. The little fellow was thrown once. His horse shied and pitched him off so he struck on his head, but he got up right away and when some women advised him to leave the horse alone he just brought his teeth together and said: 'I'm going to ride that horse. He did and he didn't get thrown any more. This isn't the first ride they have taken, for they went to Mexico on a

SCALP CUT OPEN

Police Officer Struck With Stone

BOSTON, June 9.—While arresting a young man on the charge of drunkenness at Heath and Bickford streets, Roxbury, about 10 last night, Patrolman Thomas McGrade of the Roxbury Crossing division was set upon by a gang of men and boys. McGrade's scalp was torn when he was struck by a stone and he was otherwise roughly handled, but held onto his prisoner.

During the excitement McGrade and his prisoner were forced into the doorway of a saloon at 55 Heath street. The missiles thrown by the gang worked havoc with the saloon windows. Two large plate windows, 10x7 feet, being broken.

Frank A. Donnelly, 27 years old, of 14 Bickford street, was the man arrested, being charged with drunkenness. Before the excitement subsided Sergeant O'Neill and Patrolman Lyons arrested James P. Griffin, 21 years old, of 38 Walden street, and Joseph Bradley, 27, of 122 Heath street, on the charge of attempting to rescue a prisoner.

McGrade, who is one of the most popular officers in station 10, was starting for the patrol box with Donnelly when the crowd began to gather. Donnelly, it is alleged, resisted arrest when his back was turned, and was tripped McGrade. He went down, bringing with him his prisoner. Both rolled about the street until McGrade gained the upper hand, when he again started for the box. A crowd of about 500 had collected and it was with difficulty that McGrade could move a few feet.

While in front of the saloon of Maylan & Co. at 55 Heath street the crowd surged about the officer and he was forced into the doorway. Somebody on the outskirts of the crowd threw a brick, and in a few minutes missiles were flying from all sides. Both plate glass windows were smashed.

Meanwhile a telephone message had been sent to the station house, and Lieut. Lovell dispatched Sergt. O'Neill, Patrolman Lyons and a squad of officers to the scene. After a great deal of work they cleared the street and sent Donnelly to the station house. Before the gang dispersed Patrolman Lyons arrested Griffin and Bradley, both of whom, it is claimed, were leading the leaders in the attack on McGrade.

HOLY GOSTERS

WERE SET FREE BY THE COURT

AUBURN, Me., June 9.—Mrs. Florence A. Whitaker and her four children, who were removed from the penitentiary Kingdom of the Holy Ghost and U. S. society's fleet Monday by Sheriff W. M. Trefethen on a writ of habeas corpus issued on a complaint of Nathan H. Harriman of Cambridge, Mass., who acted in response to letters from the woman alleging that she was held by Frank W. Sanford, the society's leader, against her will, were brought before Associate Justice A. J. Savage of the supreme court late yesterday afternoon.

After a hearing lasting but a few minutes, at which no opposition was made to the prayer of the petitioner, Judge Savage ordered that Mrs. Whitaker and her four children be released and allowed their liberty, and that Mrs. Whitaker be given the custody of the children. They will be cared for by her husband's brother, A. A. Whitaker of Presque Isle, who testified that he would take the family and give them a comfortable home. Mrs. Whitaker simply told the court that she had been held in restraint on the society's craft. Mr. Harriman related what he knew of the case. The Holy Ghost and U. S. society was not represented at the hearing.

ITALIAN "COUNT"

Suspected of Enticing Young Girl Away

NEW YORK, June 9.—Asserting that a plot against him had been formed, Hugh Rodgers, a prosperous real estate dealer of Philadelphia, yesterday raised to $1000 the reward he offers for the return of his daughter, Elizabeth, 19 years old, and heiress to $25,000, who vanished from her home at 534 South Eighth street, on Memorial day.

The money was kept in a safe to which, it is avowed, the missing girl had access, being her father's bookkeeper and cashier. Mr. Rodgers had extensive investments in real estate and in harness manufacture. He frequently had large sums of money in an iron safe in an upstairs room of his home. The safe was open and empty when the father went to investigate, after discovering that his daughter had disappeared.

Detectives have been working very quietly looking for the girl since she first disappeared. It then appeared that she had gone out on Memorial day, saying she was going to a party. Since then the police have been working on the theory that she was enticed away.

The Newark police have been working on the case since a request came by telegraph to look out for a girl and an Italian, who had left Philadelphia on a noon train Tuesday morning for New York. The detectives failed to find any such couple, but were told that two persons corresponding to the description left the train at Waverly, five miles from Newark.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Brockton Man Victim of Accident

BOSTON, June 9.—Edward Lucier, 28 years old, and a resident of Brockton, was struck and fatally injured by a passenger train of the Middlesex branch while he and a companion were walking along the tracks between Brockton and Avon last night. Lucier's companion was not injured, but the former received injuries from which he died before he could be rushed to a hospital, despite the efforts of a woman doctor and a nurse who were passengers on the train.

Lucier and his companion left Brockton early in the evening to walk to Avon. Lucier, who was employed by a Brockton painter, lived with his parents at 95 East Ashland street. Lucier was walking along an inward bound track. When the Boston bound train, which left Brockton at 7:30, came along he became confused and was struck and hurled a considerable distance. The engineer immediately stopped the train and the crew and some of the passengers hurried to the assistance of the injured man. Among the first was Dr. Tilton, who did everything possible with her limited means. Miss Evelyn Baker, a nurse at the Union General hospital of Boston, volunteered her services also.

Dr. Tilton found that Lucier had sustained a fracture of the skull. The injured man was placed in the baggage car and the engineer was given orders to make all haste to Quincy so the injured man might be rushed to the hospital.

Lucier died just before the train reached Braintree, and the body was removed and later sent to his home in Brockton.

WORMS

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unfreshened in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

A pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 1851; it never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventive of croup, cold, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

Sold by all Druggists. Price 35c, 50c and $1.00.

STREET CLEANING

Big Conference to be Held in Providence, R. I.

The New England street cleaning conference to be held in Providence, R. I., June 29, will be of sufficient importance to warrant the attendance and attention of public officials and others interested in the question of clean streets.

City Civil Engineer Bowers, says that such a conference is of great assistance to those concerned in the work and of great benefit to cities and towns throughout the country. The speakers at the convention to be held in Providence will include some of the best authority on the question of streets and street cleaning in the country.

The conference will be attended by mayors, councilmen, engineers, commissioners of public works and social workers throughout New England. The subjects to be discussed will include the following:

The organization of an efficient street cleaning department.
Modern methods of street cleaning.
The social significance of clean streets.
Street cleaning and tuberculosis.
School children and clean streets.

Mayor Henry Fletcher of Providence will preside and during the conference there will be a demonstration of the working of the latest street cleaning apparatus.

Wants Aunt's Address

A Miss Long of Galmoy, Johnston, County Kilkenny, Ireland, is seeking information concerning the whereabouts of her aunt, Mrs. Edward O'Neill. City Clerk Darnall is in receipt of a letter from Miss Long in which she states that her aunt used to live at 226 or 24 Lodge or Dodge street, Lowell. The letter states that Mrs. O'Neill's husband was a baker. The city clerk has been unable to locate Mrs. O'Neill.

Closing of Schools

In connection with the school closing and graduating exercises Supt. Whitcomb is desirous of calling attention to the public examination for admission to the high school. The examination will be held in the Old Moody school, June 20, at 8:30 a. m. This examination is especially intended for pupils from out of town and also for those who did not succeed in getting a master's certificate. A master's certificate admits the pupil to the high school without further examination, and it sometimes happens that when a child fails to get a master's certificate that the parents of the child get it into their heads that the child has been discriminated against. In order to remove that suspicion the child is given a second opportunity by taking the public examination. It rarely happens, however, that the child failing to get a master's certificate succeeds at the public examination.

RACE WITH DEATH IN POLICE COURT

Woman Won by Quarter of an Hour

BROCKTON, June 9.—A half-way around-the-world race with death was won by the scant margin of a quarter of an hour yesterday, when Mrs. Nina Truxbury, a teacher missionary assigned to Japan, reached the bedside of her dying father, John O. Tuell of this city, just in time to say the last farewell.

Two weeks ago that Mrs. Truxbury, teaching and preaching the gospel in the far away village of Sankai Japan, received a message, then weeks old, that her father was daily growing feebler and that he had a longing to see her before he died.

The mountain missionaries in Japan cannot leave their posts at a moment's notice. But Mrs. Truxbury hurried as fast as she could, the necessary transfers and changes that must be made to cover her absence, and within a week was homeward bound.

By Jinksshaw, Japanese railroad, Pacific mail steamer and American railways she traveled toward Brockton. Yesterday morning she stepped into a hotel at the Brockton station.

She was driven rapidly to the home of her father on West Bartlett street, where she was met by her sister and the physicians in attendance. She learned then that death was merely a matter of moments and went at once to his bedside.

The aged sufferer recognized her, and held her hands in his palm fifteen minutes after her arrival he passed away.

The deceased was a Civil war veteran and prominent in this city, where he lived the greater part of his life. He was 75 years old.

FARMING SPECIAL

IS BARRED BY THE LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

CONCORD, N. H., June 9.—The Maine Central, Boston & Maine and Boston & Albany railroads had prepared to run demonstration trains for the promotion of the agricultural interests in Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, but such trains cannot be run in New Hampshire on account of the anti-pass law enacted by the legislature in 1899. This act cuts out all free transportation, except for such people as are permanently engaged in charitable or elementary work, and prevents running the train in New Hampshire.

The prohibitive effect of the law is deplored by former Gov. Bachelder, now master of the National grange, who says the railroad would be glad to run such a train in New Hampshire, free of charge for the benefit of the farmer, but the law forbids it. "Such trains," he says, "are popular and productive of great good in all sections of the country and it is unfortunate that New Hampshire has a law that deprives the state of such service."

"In aiming to correct an evil, that can be only regarded as supposed, in the issuance of free passes for building up business along a railroad and helping the state, as well as the road, irreparable damage has been done to the development of various industries. Prominent among these is agriculture, which the railroad would like to promote, but the legislators have tied its hands in the matter of special demonstration trains. Some time the prevailing prejudice against railroads will subside, and in such a way as to cause a vigorous reaction. This will clear the atmosphere and make impossible the injury to business interests that has occurred in this instance. Other states have acted sensibly in allowing the railroads to do things in the interest of the people that would gladly be done here did the law allow it."

AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A great deal of talk was heard yesterday at both ends of the capital, indicating a strong sentiment toward an early adjournment of congress. Among those who thought that the legislative program might be closed up by July 1, the latest was Representative Dechler, the republican whip in the house, who expressed this opinion after a talk with President Taft.

Senator Aldrich announced that he intended to leave Washington within a week. He said he hoped the conference on the railroad bill would be concluded by that time.

Nothing definite can be stated, however, until after there has been a formal meeting of the conference on the railroad bill.

OUT ON STRIKE

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 9.—Early binders and pressers employed at the Rhode Island Perkins shoe show works, Valley Falls, struck late yesterday because of the refusal of the management to pay wages. The plant, one of the largest of its kind in the United States, employs about 500 men.

WOMAN WON BY QUARTER OF AN HOUR

Trouble at Merrimack Mills Aired in Court

Police court this morning was brief, and the offenders were allowed to go in short order. Judge Bailey informed the men who appeared before him that they ought to change their lives. There was a dispute in the vicinity of the Merrimack mills this morning and as a result there were several men in court charged with obstructing the street. Their cases were continued until June 11th.

It seems that there is a little trouble at this mill and these men it is alleged, attempted to stop some others from going into work. Their names are Demetrius Pappas, Louis Meyers, Derbyshire, clergyman.

Theodras, Paficillinais, Foatis Ramsis

Hires

Means Health and Purity

Two questions alone are vital in the use of any beverage—Is it pure? Is it healthful?

The ingredients used in the manufacture of Hires are personally selected by its inventor, every one possessing a known health value. Many of them could be had at less than half their cost, but they would be less than half as good. The flavor—by which you judge—would be there, but the quality—by which we judge—would not.

Hires could not be made in cleaner vessels by cleaner methods—the tanks are glass-lined, the pipes are solid block tin, the water distilled and the workmen are clean—all under the constant supervision of a practical chemist—a graduate and formerly a professor in one of our foremost technical colleges.

Hires is pre-eminent in healthfulness and purity. It aids digestion and relieves indigestion. Without a trace of false stimulants or irritants such as soap bark, etc.

EASTERN RECORD

HARRY WORMWOOD PITCHES 11 INNINGS WITHOUT HIT

WORCESTER, June 9.—A new eastern record for a "no-hit, no-run" game in baseball is claimed for Harry Wormwood of the Fall River team of the N. E. league, who yesterday pitched for 11 innings without allowing a hit or a run in the game with Worcester, which was won by his team, 1 to 0.

The work of Wormwood was particularly commendable, for at no time during the entire game was there a semblance of a safe hit by the Worcester men. The visiting fielders played a sharp, clean game without a single error.

Wormwood was formerly with the Worcester team.

The world's record for such a game is accredited to Pitcher Tony of the Winchester, Ky., team, in the Blue Grass league, who on May 10, 1909, pitched 17 innings without allowing a hit or a run.

DRUCKE, PITCHING STAR N. Y.

GIANTS FOUND THIS YEAR

NEW YORK, June 9.—Gotham baseball fans are sure that Manager John McGraw has unearthed another Christy Mathewson in the person of Louis Drucke. Although the youngster has not established a strikeout record or twirled a no hit game, he has pitched a good ball for the Giants and given every indication of developing into one of the best in the National league.

Drucke is twenty-one years old and a strapping, long armed fellow. He has been well advised by Mathewson and to some extent has copied the delivery of "Big Six." Like Mathewson, he indulges in no preliminary swing, but simply raises both hands above his head and lets go. He has a very effective drop curve, something like Matty's "fadeaway," and his long arms give him a sweep that produces great speed. His style of delivery makes for control, and, as a rule, he is steady. Drucke joined the Giants last fall and won four or five games.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The prize of $15,000 offered by Edwin Gould for the aviator who makes the longest flight in an air machine during the coming summer has started the air world going around in circles once more. Since the remarkable flight of Curtiss between Albany and New York prizes have been offered by various cities that now total nearly $100,000 in cash. This amount is to be increased, so it is said, until by fall men who fly for a living will have nearly $150,000 in prizes to work for. Hamilton is out to break records in his round trip between New York and Philadelphia next Saturday.

MEN CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD CITY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—Jas. Beach and Peter Casey, who have been on trial a week charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of Pawtucket out of $1000, were found not guilty by a jury in the superior court late yesterday.

Just before Judge Baker charged the jury, Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry P. Scott challenged the defendants to prove their insinuations that others had been connected in the alleged "stone crusher graft."

Evidence was given during the trial that Postmaster Wm. H. Barclay of Pawtucket had paid one of the witnesses a sum of money to leave the state, so she could not testify in the case. A summons was issued for Barclay to appear as a witness, but he could not be located.

MAN KILLED

CRUSHED TO DEATH IN ELEVATOR WELL

BOSTON, June 9.—Henry R. Warren, about 31 years old, was found fatally injured at the bottom of an elevator well in the Washington building, 367 Washington street, yesterday noon, with the car resting upon him. He was quickly removed and taken to the relief station, but died while the doctors were examining him.

Warren had relieved the regular elevator man, P. A. Davis, for dinner. Davis ate his dinner on the premises, and while passing the elevator at 12:15 discovered that his relief was absent from his post. He investigated and found Warren.

The only explanation of the accident that could be offered by the young man's fellow employees was that Warren tried to pick up some papers that had been thrown into the bottom of the well and while he was under the car someone on the second floor, where the car was stopped, finding no one to run it, decided to run it down himself.

Nothing is known of Warren in the Washington building. The superintendent said he had been employed there only two weeks and had been engaged through a reference association.

The landlady at 94 Bowdoin street, where the young man lodged, could tell nothing of him, except that a Mrs. Smith, formerly of Boston, but now living at Sandy Beach, Yarmouth, N. S., might know something of the young man's mother.

GIFT OF $100,000

DURHAM, N. C., June 9.—Upon retiring from the presidency of Trinity college and becoming a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, Dr. Kulgo yesterday presented to the board of trustees of the institution a $100,000 gift from Benjamin N. Duke, which makes the total Duke benefaction to Trinity $1,400,000.

Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, made the commencement address at the closing exercises of Trinity yesterday.

THE BANK TANGLE

May Cause a Revision of the Bank Law

BOSTON, June 9.—The way is being paved for a settlement of the Southbridge savings bank tangle by enacting legislation which will give the supreme judicial court of this commonwealth the right to approve of the scaling down of deposits in a bank when the affairs are in such a condition that either a receivership is imminent or a scaling down is necessary.

The bill now pending in the legislature relative to the management of savings banks which is aimed to correct the errors in the supervision of savings banks, has been amended by adding a clause which gives the supreme court authority to act for the depositors in the case mentioned. It is expected that this law will pass the legislature and that it will make it easy for the supreme court to act this fall.

The amendment giving the supreme court this authority is drafted along the lines of a somewhat similar law which has been in force in New Hampshire for some years. It is felt this law will enable the supreme court to announce its decision quickly this fall.

It will be recalled that a short time ago Judge Sheldon of the supreme bench was sitting on the question of permitting the scaling down of the deposits of the Southbridge savings bank to 85 per cent. of their face value, reserved the question for the full bench, saying he was in doubt about his power to bind the depositors by ordering a reduction. Now the amendment is drawn to meet this situation.

There is a strong feeling that the reduction of the deposits to 85 per cent. of their value is best for the depositors, especially as there is more than a probability that under the amendment which has just been added to the general savings bank bill, which is house bill 1696, any surplus shown above the scaling down figure would also be divided pro rata among the depositors. In that event, it is said from a reliable source, that 85 per cent. probably would be available and possibly 90 per cent.

As assets, the bank will realize about $26,000 from property that Cashier Hall turned over to the bank, and in addition the $20,000 on his bond has been paid, and is drawing interest. There is also a suit against the town for about $30,000 on some notes which the bank officers think the town will be compelled to pay. This would give $56,000, which would represent about 3 per cent. over and above the 85 per cent. which it is requested to accept as a basis of continuing business.

The bank tangle, while most unfortunate, promises to be straightened out this fall when the supreme court passes on the question of scaling down the deposits. It is possible that new proceedings may be necessary to enable the court to decide, but that the way will then be much clearer, seems to be the general feeling among depositors and friends of the bank who are anxious to avoid a receivership.

THE DEACON WON

66 Year Old Man First in Walking Match

WORCESTER, June 9.—Deacon Charles N. Prouty, the well-known churchman and wealthy shoe manufacturer of Spencer, scored a victory in the walking match against B. Eugene Browning, the Spencer newsdealer, in their contest from Spencer to Worcester, a distance of 11 miles, yesterday afternoon.

The deacon's time was 2h. 28m. and he finished as fresh as a colt. Mr. Browning's time was 2h. 35m.

The race, owing to the standing of both men, had been the talk of Worcester county for weeks and speculation ran high as to the outcome. Fears were entertained by the deacon's friends that he must have experienced trouble along the route, when they saw him coming plodding along the highway with skin abrasions on his hip and nose, from which blood trickled, but all fears were set at rest when the deacon explained that the accident happened during the progress of the race in Cherry Valley. In his efforts to avoid colliding with a baby carriage the deacon, who is very nearsighted, ran into a telegraph pole.

At the conclusion of the race the deacon joked with his rival about the contest, and at the same time served warning on the ambitious amateur pedestrians of Worcester county that he had a lot up his sleeve which he could have used if he had been pressed. All along the line of the highway between Spencer and Worcester people turned out by the hundreds to encourage the two men on their journey.

The race was a waggerless one, for the deacon could not be induced to bet even a tobacco pipe on the result. The match was the result of some pleasant badgering on the part of Gene Browning last winter, in which he jokingly referred to the cane the deacon was carrying.

"Getting old, deacon," remarked Gene, as Mr. Prouty entered the former's place of business in Spencer one day. "Not so old, Gene, but that I can walk faster than you can," quickly replied the deacon. Day after day the good-natured chaffing continued. Meanwhile both were quietly fitting themselves for the contest by regular practice stints.

While the principals were getting ready their friends were laying ice cream and candy wagers on the result, in the event of a contest. A short time ago Mr. Browning set all doubt at rest by declaring he was ready for the match and the deacon was prompt in agreeing to a date. The deacon is 66 years old, about 5ft. 10 in. in height, 110 weighs 150 pounds. Gene Browning is six years younger and weighs 160 pounds.

JUDGE BROWN

Talked on Boy City Movement

Judge Willis Brown, founder and first judge of the juvenile court of Salt Lake City, Utah, and founder of the "Boy City" organization, spoke last night in the vestry of the First Congregational church, in the interest of the Boy City movement. Judge Brown believes that the organization of a Boy City as an adjunct to the juvenile court, acts as a preventive of crime among boys, thus lessening the business of the court.

He said that he tried for 16 years to discover a plan for solving the boy problem, and wound up by finding that there is no boy problem, but just boys—kids, that is all. A boy, he said, will be absolutely square, with the law of "the gang." At certain stages in a boy's life, "the gang" is stronger than any home influence. Out in Utah, it is claimed that the state absolutely owns every boy within its limits, and so it is possible to do preventive work. The best way to work in a juvenile court is to organize a

"gang"—a boy city. There is one in Salt Lake City, with a city hall equipped by one of the rich men of the city. The city is organized into wards, and the boys make their own laws and elect their own mayor and board of aldermen and other city officers. The boys govern themselves absolutely, the only rule of the Boy City being that of "a square deal." The boy, says Judge Brown, who does not play square is either sick, or else he is a sneak. If he is not sick, and has not "bubbles," then he should be sent to the juvenile court. Judge Brown says that the boy of a good home, who goes wrong, is harder to redeem than the boy of a bad home.

It does him no good to put him on probation, because he has been on probation all his life. "If my boy, with his bringing up, commits a theft, he belongs to the reform school tomorrow. But if 'Timmy,' the toughest boy in New Hampshire, should commit a theft, it would not be so very bad." On this principle, Judge Brown would not send the boy from a bad home to the reform school, until he has given him a chance, until he can judge him under normal conditions. Put him in a good environment, let him have the things in life that the boys in good homes have, and see if he will then "play fair." If he will not, send him away.

Judge Brown was accompanied by

Frederick E. Smith, director of "Dover Boyville," Dover, N. H., and adult leader of the Boy City movement for New England. Mr. Smith is anxious to co-operate with managers of boys' clubs or other organizations in the interest of the movement.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

We shall soon hear of our growth during the past ten years as indicated by the recent census. Let us hope there will be no miscount this time.

The speculators are again pushing up the price of cotton to figures that make its purchase for manufacturing purposes at the present time a doubtful investment.

With the equipment of public playgrounds in this city it is important that the effective use of apparatus be explained and illustrated to the children. The program presented at the state Normal school Tuesday afternoon served that purpose admirably. There is an art in play as in everything else, and the movement to instruct the children in making the most of the apparatus provided is a good one.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S DIPLOMACY

President Taft has scored a diplomatic triumph in securing an agreement on the part of the western railroads to hold up the proposed increase in freight rates so as to stop tedious legislation and let the whole matter be settled by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There is a bill before congress, the intent of which is to give the Interstate Commerce Commission power to suspend any freight rate on interstate traffic, that is supposed to be excessive, pending an investigation and final decree by the commission fixing an equitable rate.

It would be futile to enter litigation at the present time as it would not be more than well started before the Interstate Commerce Commission shall enter upon its new function of investigating and fixing rates. There is no doubt now of the passage of the bill by congress and it was with this understanding that President Taft induced the railroad presidents to withdraw the advance in rates that had been announced to take effect June 1.

THE ELECTION OF MR. MAYBERRY.

In discussing or defending the election of Mr. Mayberry as principal assessor our non-partisan neighbors, the Courier-Citizen, as usual hastens to place the responsibility which belongs to the aldermen alone on the shoulders of our democratic mayor for having as the Courier-Citizen alleges, unjustly removed Mr. Mayberry from the superintendency of the city farm. The Courier-Citizen should have stated that the trouble began when a republican mayor for what appeared to be political reasons alone brought about the removal of Superintendent Courtney with the result that Mr. Mayberry was chosen to succeed him. An effort has been made to make a martyr out of Mr. Mayberry on account of his removal, but the real martyr in the case if any, is Mr. Martin J. Courtney, one of the ablest and most successful superintendents who ever served in that position. It must, we believe, be conceded that the removal of Superintendent Courtney was a serious mistake.

We do not believe, however, that the interests of the city or of the department suffered when Martin F. Conley was made superintendent, despite the republican protests against the change. So much for the results of changes, political and otherwise, at the city farm. When a non-partisan paper as our neighbor claims to be, undertakes to give reasons for political changes it should give the true reasons without bias, as it is inconsistent with genuine non-partisanship to paint the situation in favor of either political party.

THE EARTHQUAKE VISITATION IN ITALY

Again has the sympathy of the world gone out to the people of Italy who have been subjected to the terrors of a great earthquake shock, causing many deaths and much destruction of property. The king and queen of Italy, as in the case of the Messina disaster, have hurried to the scene to render all possible assistance to the afflicted.

The king and queen, it must be said, are models in their simplicity of life and intense devotion to their subjects. Whenever anything in the line of calamity occurs in any part of the kingdom, the king goes to the scene and the queen insists upon accompanying him, showing a fearlessness and an intensity of sympathy with suffering that is greatly to her credit. When the king and queen go to Milan they do not bring their retinue of servants with them but occupy only a few rooms of the great palace and order their meals from a restaurant. They are probably the only rulers of Europe who adopt such a simple and democratic mode of living. This is doubtless one of the reasons why the people are so much devoted to them.

But as to the earthquake, it appears to have affected a large portion of central Italy and covered much of the territory devastated by the great earthquake of 1861 by which 800 lives were lost. This shock is evidently of volcanic origin being in the immediate vicinity of an extinct volcano and not far from Mt. Vesuvius. The scientists can predict eclipses of the heavenly bodies and trace the course of the comets through infinite space, but they have not the slightest theory by which they might predict earthquakes. The time may come, however, when they may be able to discern signs of coming earthquakes for it cannot be that they are entirely unheralded. With the well known molecular, vibratory, magnetic and electric qualities of the matter of which the body of the earth is composed, it is strange that the scientists are yet unable to devise any method of forecasting subterranean disturbances. Astronomers are giving a great deal of attention to the planet Mars, the comets and the other heavenly bodies. Why should it not be a good idea to learn a little more about our own planet and to study these seismic disturbances that occur so frequently and of which there is not the slightest warning until the crash comes?

Is it not high time that some of the millionaires established a foundation for the study, prediction and possible prevention of earthquakes and volcanic action?

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Adeline Genoe, the Danish dancer, will be married in London June 11. Frank S. N. Ilett, a lawyer and legal adviser to many members of the nobility.

Thomas Morley, the Pittsburgh man who is the double President Taft, is going into vaudeville in the fall and will be seen in a monolog. He will sit at an office desk and do a bit of government business for the amusement of the public.

One of the events of Convocation Day, June 14, at the University of Chicago, will be the unveiling of a bronze memorial dedicated to Alice Freeman Palmer, whose career President Eliot declared "was unmatched by that of any other American woman."

The East-side house, New York, founded by Everett P. Wheeler, and in which members of the Church club of New York have long taken warm interest, reports the offer by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Howard of a farm of 224 acres, fronting on the Hudson river just below Matteawan, for summer work in connection with the house. It is hoped to raise an endowment of at least $100,000 for its maintenance.

Edison's ideas of sleep seem to suit him. He believes six hours is the maximum amount of sleep anyone needs in the 24. He thinks he is just as well with three or four hours, that sleep is a habit. He says that neither the brain nor the body requires prolonged sleep. That our long hours of sleep owes its origin to the primitive time when man went to bed at sundown, with the other animals, because there was no artificial light, and they could do nothing else. Rest is essential.

NEW TREATMENT FOR THE HAIR

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and disease germs, which settle in the hair and scalp. The natural oil on your head holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff and scalp troubles. The pores in your scalp are stopped up, the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. Cleanliness is the one and only thing needed. You don't need tonics, renewers, incisors or hair growers. You need Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. It is made of Refined Soap, Cocoon Coccol Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp. Tubes 25c, Jars 50c.

tained by change of employment, and he would have people constantly busy for not less than 18 out of the 24 hours. He suggests that anyone can accomplish this by tapering off gradually until the longer hours are reached. He reads well, and makes one ambitious while under the spell of Mr. Edison's eloquence on the subject.

A court-martial sitting at Glogau in Prussian Silesia has sentenced a non-commissioned officer, Franz Libowska, to two years' imprisonment and degradation for perpetrating 250 acts of cruelty on members of the 5th battalion of sappers. The evidence showed that Libowska hit a recruit's head 50 times in succession and then struck his victim in the face with the flat of his sword. Libowska also maltreated the same recruit by kicking his head with heavy knee blows.

Another recruit received thirty blows in succession on the head and face, and Libowska dug his nails so deeply into the unhappy soldier's cheek that blood was drawn. Many recruits and young soldiers had submitted to having their hair pulled out of their heads.

One of Libowska's habits was to throw bags of cartridges, swords and similar missiles at the men's heads while they were cleaning the barracks. He once compelled his men to submit to having their hair pulled out of their heads while he looked on and enjoyed the combat. After a hard day's drill he would compel the men to get up at night and sing to him. Those whose voices or songs displeased him were beaten and systematically ill-treated on the following days.

In many cases Libowska forced his men to lend him money, which he never repaid.

"JIM" JEFFRIES

Reported to be in Fine Condition

BEN LOMOND, Cal., June 9.—Critics who have followed Jeffries' training operations closely are of the opinion that the fighter has improved fifty per cent within the last two weeks and they attribute his remarkable gain chiefly to recently acquired cheerfulness. Jeffries declares that if his battle with Johnson were but ten days off he would be in perfect trim for the encounter.

"If I lose the American public will scarcely be able to find fault with the fight I made," he remarked last evening.

Jeffries would not make a prediction as to the duration of the conflict. "Let the fight take care of itself," he said, with a smile. "I only know this, that, short fight or long fight, I will be prepared. Anyone who thinks I am likely to tire easily is fooling himself. I could fight all day if necessary."

The open air arena is now ready and if Jeff does not again change his mind he and Corbett will get together with the gloves some time today.

"I will go only a couple of rounds with him the first time," said Corbett, "for I will have to work myself gradually into shape."

KAUFMAN WITH JOHNSON

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Al Kaufman who is soon to fight Sam Langford here arrived from Harbin Springs yesterday and immediately took up his quarters at Jack Johnson's camp where he will do his training.

The advent of Kaufman means heavy work for Johnson for during the next ten days the two are expected to put on the gloves often in heavy ring workouts.

Johnson seems to have forgotten all about his managerial troubles. Once more the "golden smile" is in evidence. He went about his work yesterday with a vim and vigor that delighted his trainers and he got through a surprising amount of exercise before the day was over.

MAMMOTH CIRCUS

Barnum and Bailey Tomorrow--Big Parade

Boys who can still hark back to the old-time stunt with the water pail, and girls who in other days clung to their mothers in awe while bespangled performers flirted with death, can romp to the show grounds tomorrow and see the latest and best development of the circus idea as exemplified by the Barnum and Bailey circus. The "boys" can take along their sons and the "girls" their daughters, and for three, happy, howling hours travel back over the road to yesterday and live again the hours when all was "peaches and cream." Today the circus is exhibiting in Manchester and long before the average mortal turns in bed tomorrow morning for his beauty sleep it is expected that the first sections of the show train will have pulled into town. Eighty-five cars make up the four long trains, the first section, called the "fly-bug squadron," conveying the commissary department and the larger portion of the working force. The second and third sections bring the circus zoo, tentage, etc., while the last train brings the performers, ring stock, and "led" animals, including 30 elephants, 24 camels and more than the usual quota of zebras, llamas, alpacas, sacred cattle, etc.

It's sort of like this: four trains of about twenty cars each come chugging in, each pulled by a double header. Before they come to a full stop about 500 men jump off the platforms and out of windows and start running in different directions like football teams after the kickoff. The trains are unloaded in a jiffy and the start made for the circus lot. Three minutes after getting there four or five hundred horses and a score of elephants are at work pulling and pushing huge wagons, slakes are being driven, canvases erected, a half hundred cooks are erecting a "Titanic restaurant," and the work is well underway.

For about three hours there is to the unskilled eye such a chaos of confusion as was never seen, when suddenly there comes a lull and the circus is ready for its parade and performances. This season the circus requires more real estate than ever to properly erect its city of canvas, some 20 tents, big and little, being used.

There'll be a parade tomorrow morning traversing the usual route from the Fair grounds. This cavalcade will be an interesting affair and exhibit, as perhaps nothing else could, the immense resources of the show. It will be an immense moving horse fair with over 600 horses on view. There will be a generous display of open cages and a long string of elephants and camels. The leading band chariot will have a hitch of 24 Norman horses. Ten and twelve horse hitchers will be plentiful. Men and women riders, finely horsed and costumed, will lend a cheerful note of color to the long column. Gorgeous floats, typical of many countries, will give it a luxurious tone, and five bands including a mounted band will flood the streets with martial melody. All told, "some parade" is promised.

But it is under the "big top" that the chief glories of circus day will be unfolded. Performances being given at 2 and 8 o'clock, doors being opened at 1 and 7 o'clock. The zoo will claim first attention, for it is more than ever attractive and high class. Baby Bumburno, the infant giraffe, and Chimnis Edden, erudite chimpanzee star here, but divide honors with the largest and most diversified animal display ever seen under canvas, including a whole family of giraffes, a kindergarten of infant lions, tigers and kangaroos, 30 elephants, 24 camels, fine specimens of the rhinoceros and hippopotamus, together with all the more familiar types.

Promptly at 2 and 8 o'clock the ring-master's whistle will blow and the fun will be on in the big tent. For over two hours there won't be a dull moment. The show starts with a spectacular tournament typical of early Egyptian history with a wealth of beautiful wardrobe, fine horses and gorgeous trappings. Then comes the circus proper. Most of the acts are new to America, and from the great European circuses. Jupiter, the balloon horse, will cause many a nervous tremor, while Charles the First, educated chimpanzee, will cause the student to turn the pages of his Darwin. Buzza's ponies and mules are a scream, and the riding and juggling seals provide an amazing performance. La Belle Victoria upon the high wire proved a sensation during the New York engagement, as did the acrobatic number presented by a half score troupe. Of clowns there are some fifty disciples of Billikin. The circus menu is topped off with the performances of Desperado, a daring young Frenchman who makes a headlong dive from the top of the tent, alighting upon his chest while the band plays a funeral dirge, and performers and public alike hold their bated breath. He is the despair of all insurance actuaries and pulls down a weekly salary that would make even an insurgent ball player sit up and take notice. At in all, a circus is promised that would make the shade of even Phineas T. Barnum, himself, turn green with envy were he to see it. All day tomorrow tickets may be bought at Hall & Lyon's drug store, the downtown ticket office.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Guest of Honor at Two Functions

LONDON, June 9.—Dorchester house, the residence of Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, was the scene yesterday of two functions in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt—a reception in the afternoon to the members of the Pilgrim and American societies and a farewell dinner last night. Both were quiet affairs on account of the court mourning and the fact also that Mr. and Mrs. Reid are in mourning for the late Ogden Mills.

Several hundred persons attended the dinner, including most of the prominent members of the American colony. Ambassador and Mrs. Reid and ex-President and Mrs. Roosevelt received at the head of the grand staircase. The guests included the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, the Duke of Portland, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, American bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in the Philippine Islands, and Lord Alverstone.

At the luncheon at Colonel Arthur Lees, Mr. Roosevelt met the Earl of Selborne, high commissioner in South Africa and governor of the Transvaal; David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer; Sir Horace Plunkett of the department of agriculture in Ireland; Sir Alfred Pease, and W. W. Jacobs, the writer, who was invited to attend on Mr. Roosevelt's special request.

Mr. Roosevelt will spend his last day in England resting in the country. Hundreds of letters, commenting on his Glidden speech, are pouring in. The great majority of them are laudatory, but some are abusive.

PEARY SUED

NOTICE WAS SERVED ON HIM IN BERLIN

BERLIN, June 9.—Immediately after his arrival here last evening, Commander Peary was served with a notice of a suit that had been instituted against him in the local courts. After conferring with Ambassador Hill regarding the matter, Commander Peary said that he felt it in the ambassador's hands. He declared also that he wished his hands of the whole affair. He stated positively that the suit had not been brought by Dr. Cook nor on the latter's behalf and that Cook was in no way concerned in the litigation.

Commander Peary declined to say who was bringing the suit, but it was rumored that it is Rudolph Franke, Cook's assistant, who is now in Germany.

ORDERS SALOONS CLOSED

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9.—When Mayor Urban C. Gill learned yesterday of President Taft's refusal to remove the negro soldiers from Fort Lawton, he had sixty emergency policemen placed in the Fort Lawton district. The mayor also ordered the closing of resorts and saloons near the fort. Private Nathaniel Redden confessed to the police that he was drunk when he attacked Mrs. Redden and that no other soldier should share the blame.

GIRL IS EXCLUDED

Cannot Attend White School Because Relative Married Octoroon

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Justice Wright of the supreme court of the District of Columbia has decided that Isabel L. Wall bears no racial evidence of being a negro, but he refuses to order the board of education to admit her to the white schools on the ground that her father was a negro.

In his decision, Justice Wright said: "There was to be observed of the child no physical characteristics which afforded ocular evidence suggestive of anything but Caucasian. Her father, while of light complexion, presents to the eye racial characteristics which identify him of negro blood; her mother, formerly white to a Mongolian, is taken to be white."

"Persons of whatever complexion who bear the negro blood in whatever degree and who abide in the racial status of the negro are 'colored' in the common estimation of the people. The child at bar has acquired no racial status personal to itself; its status of necessity is that of its father. This, and that of his paternal ancestors, as is conceded, been always that of the negro."

"It is to be concluded that the child is of negro blood, one-eighth to one-sixteenth; that her racial status is that of the negro."

The case of Isabel Wall has been agitating the people of Brookland, a suburb of Washington, for many months.

The trouble started within the congregation of the Brookland Baptist church. One day Mrs. Wall received a visit from several members of the church. As a result Mrs. Wall tendered her resignation from the congregation. Soon after the matter was brought to the attention of the teacher at the public school. The principal issued an order excluding the little girl.

pal issued an order excluding the little girl.

The matter was brought to the attention of the school board by Mr. Wall and the board sustained the principal. Then Wall appealed to the courts.

"The contention of the child's father," said John Ridout, who represented the Walls at the school board hearing, "is that his daughter is white and not 'colored' under the law. We contend that color is color."

"From the best information obtainable it appears that the child's great-grandfather on her father's side married an octoroon. The rest of her progenitors on that side and all her ancestors on her mother's side have been white. Therefore it would seem that only a very small quantity of African blood can be in her veins. Since she is fifth in descent from the octoroon, the fraction figures out as one one-hundred-and-twenty-eighth black. "In the days of slavery the status of the mother determined the fate of the child, and our contention is that as Isabel's mother is admittedly white, she herself is a white child."

Police Captain Lawrence in trying to smother the blazing clothing of the girl threw around her a skirt which had been soaked in the gasoline and was himself severely burned about the hands and face.

CHILD AILMENTS

Three Fourths Caused by Worms.

Thousands of children are afflicted by worms and their parents do not know it.

It is a pity that youngsters are allowed to sicken and die from supposed other causes when the whole thing starts with worms, a trouble which could have been cured with a few cents worth of herb medicine.

There are more than fifty different worms that can get into the human stomach and bowels and destroy health.

When your child appears sick it is well to remember the saying "think of worms first" because that's the most usual cause of all the various ill feelings and actions of children.

Look for these signs: peevishness, fretfulness, bad breath, constant thirst, greed or poor appetite, starting, grunting, choking, grinding teeth or swallowing in sleep, bed-wetting, vomiting, swollen eyes or pale lips. These are only a few of the symptoms.

Finding any of these or their like present, act at once by giving the needed herb medicine.

Fessenden's Worm Expeller is recommended in such cases because it is cheap and most effective. Only costs a quarter drug store. Nothing else like it. Remember the exact name, Fessenden's Worm Expeller, and start the treatment of the child at once. Directions are on the package.

TO RECLAIM FARM LANDS

KINGSTON, R. I., June 9.—The newly organized movement to secure the reclamation of the farm lands of the state for farm purposes was characterized as the beginning of a new era in the agricultural industry of Rhode Island by Gov. Aram J. Pathler at the commencement exercises of the Rhode Island state college here today. Former Gov. George H. Utter was also a speaker. Seventeen graduates received the much coveted sheepskins and nine of those to secure degrees were from this state, seven from Massachusetts, and New Hampshire was represented by one.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY

S., June 9.—The Presbyterian general assembly decided today not to take any action whatever regarding the retention in the constitution oath of the British sovereign of that portion denying belief in Roman Catholic doctrine. ### BED WAS BURNED

An alarm from box 21 shortly before noon today summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a bed in a house in Summer street near the corner of South street. The origin of the fire is unknown and but little damage was done.

INCREASE IN FARES

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Increases in communication passenger fares made recently by the railway lines operating out of New York city will not be affected by the verbal agreement reached by the railway officials and President Taft. This announcement was made today at the offices of the interstate commerce commission.

In the judgment of the officers of the commission the rates discussed by the president and the railroad officials were freight rates. Those are the only rates that generally have been increased. Advances have been made in the communication rates out of New York city by all of the lines doing a communication business. They will become effective on or about July 1.

It is held that the commission is bound to recognize the tariffs making the increases as they were filed in the regular way provided by the statute, the railroads being entirely within their rights in making the increases. Whether the interstate communication rates fixed by the new tariff are reasonable or not is a question for future determination.

GRADUATE HUNTING—THIS SEASON'S FAVORITE SPORT

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

THIS is the open season for graduates. Not a single state in the Union has passed game laws for the protection of this harmless, defenseless creature of the hall and campus, and the federal policy of conservation of our natural resources knows not him (nor her) as an object of its protecting care. Therefore any ambitious statesman or politician with a message to deliver is at liberty to invade the habitat of the graduate and hunt him down with merciless manuscript in hand. From every nook and corner of the land the shrieks of the helpless soon-to-be alumnus or alumna are rising to the skies. Let us pause to shed a tear of sympathy for the poor graduate.

Figures fall us to tell how many presidents, senators, governors, representatives, mayors and keepers of town pounds have been busily furbishing up their rhetoric and the memories of their own college days to derive therefrom the "few words of advice" that are "not amiss on occasions like the present." Probably there is no man of high station, from the president down, who has not been approached with invitations to make himself heard at the commencement exercises of this or that university, college, academy or school. Probably they have all accepted, save the senator who last year told a graduating class that what its members would need in future years would be the quality the name of which he had noted on the swinging doors as he entered the hall.

It was "Push" he meant, but on the inside of the door was inscribed "Pull." The audience was unkind enough to laugh out loud. And the senator is not addressing any graduating classes this year.

The President's Engagements.

First and foremost among the men who go graduate hunting each year is the president of the United States. We are speaking now of the chief executive generically, not specifically.

Whoever the occupant of the White House may be for the time being, he is deluged each spring with invitations to visit about the country and deliver broadsides of wisdom at those who have been absorbing that sort of matter for at least four years. It is considered "the thing" at the big universities to ask the president to speak at commencement time. More often than not he accepts two or three of the invitations and turns the others down as politely as possible.

This year President Taft will be the chief figure at three college commencements at least. Yale, his alma mater, will be sure to have him on commencement day, June 22, since his eldest son, Robert A. Taft, will then receive his degree and the honors which he has earned by a standing in the university high above the average student. The acceptance of the invitation to attend the commencement at Bryn Mawr, where Miss Helen Taft is a student, made another engagement for the president, and Marietta College, in his own state of Ohio, claimed him successfully to help in the celebration of its seventy-fifth anniversary.

There are no fashions in commencement, speaking generally. They are all amplifications of the old idea of sending forth into the world formally the young man or woman equipped as fully as possible by his or her particular alma mater with the knowledge and training that will help in the attainment of an honorable place in the world. But particular usages differ.

As a rule, the older and bigger the university or college the more frills there are about its commencement. At some institutions, such as the various state universities, of which the governors of the state usually are officials, the affairs are marked with great pomp and stateliness. At others they are the occasions of happy assemblages of former collegians in class reunions and other forms of festivity. At some colleges stress is laid upon the serious side of the commencement as terminating the cloistered career of their highest classes of young men or women, or both. At others the joyous sides of the affairs receive the greatest amount of attention. Of course at all colleges there is a mingling of the two phases of the graduation exercises.

Happy Days at Women's Colleges.

If you are a serious sort of person, with a liking for the abstruse side of life, by all means attend the commencement of a men's college and regale yourself with the solemn orations delivered thereat. But if you prefer the lightness of existence, pull all the wires you can for a "bid" to the exercises at a woman's seminary. Not that the commencements at the women's colleges are lacking in seriousness—oh, dear me, no! If you look for them you can easily discern the underlying solemnities of the affair. But there are a gaiety and a happiness about most of the graduates of the women's colleges that are mainly absent from the serious eyed, bespectacled seniors who present themselves for degrees at the brother institutions. For instance, who can imagine a class of Yale or Harvard or Pennsylvania seniors wreathing themselves in the daisy chain that plays so prominent a part at Vassar each year? It is simply unthinkable.

This year some of the women's colleges have taken steps calculated to detract somewhat from the picturesque of their commencements. A ban was placed on some of the pretty necessities of dress of the girl graduates. The reason given was the expense incurred by some of the students and the inability of others to meet such obligations. At Vassar, for example, the senior class voted to do away with the big bouquets that heretofore have been carried by the graduates and to substitute therefor simple flowers. At Smith college, in order to make graduation as inexpensive as possible, the senior class agreed to do away with the wearing of hats on commencement Sunday, June 12. Heretofore this had been the great day of the year for millinery display by the girls and has always been a sore trial to the less wealthy seniors. But the most radical changes are those instituted at Radcliffe college this year. The senior class graduation committee "put the lid" on the greater part of the things that the feminine heart has held dear. Among the things that fell within the prohibited category were gowns of all sorts and the dresses prescribed for the great occasion was as follows:

Some of the Things Prescribed.

Long sleeved white shirt waist (as plain as possible).
Linen collar (plain or embroidered).
Ties will be provided.
Plain white skirt—preferably linen—must be fairly heavy and not ruffled. There should be neither embroidery nor a row of buttons on the front of the skirt.

Skirt three inches from the ground. Gown two inches above the skirt.

Black hats. Absolutely no jewelry. No bows in the hair. Please be careful of the hang of the skirt and gown.

Black shoes and stockings (Oxford ties and plain black stockings). The feet must look dainty and trim.

No fancy combs and barrettes. The order did not meet by any means with unanimous approval, either among the student body of Radcliffe or its friends. One metropolitan commentator said:

"Certainly there is need to limit expenditures for graduation gowns lest beauty be eclipsed by vulgar because incongruous magnificence and lest the girls with poorer parents suffer the agonies of humiliation because of inability to attain a decorative standard set unduly high. Yet most families who can send their girls to college at all are not only able but glad to incur a reasonable amount of extra expense for commencement day gowns, and they should not be deprived of the privilege of doing so."

"Breaking Up" Day at Eton.

Few of our American colleges and universities are old enough to possess distinctive, historical commencement day features, although some have made commendable efforts in that direction, such as the planting of class trees, ivies, etc. To get the real historical, antique flavor one must go to England, with its two great hoary universities and its ancient "public schools"—Eton, Harrow, Westminster, etc. (which are not at all public or common schools in the American acceptance of the terms).

At Eton, for example, there exists the curious custom of collecting from the boys the old high hats, or "toppers," which they have worn in the term. These hats, with other outworn goods, are collected by local clothiers, hatters and others on "breaking up" day at Eton. Another curious custom at the school, which is nearing the close of its fifth century of existence, is the collection of old lesson books for the book "pound." If these books are not claimed by their owners before a certain time after the commencement of the following term they are sold to other boys.

Aim at Converting the Whole World

NOTHING less than the evangelization of the whole world, the carrying of the gospel wherever man himself is able to go, is the aim of the world's missionary conference summoned to meet in Edinburgh, Scotland, June 14 to 23. As its name implies, it is an international and interdenominational convention of missionaries and believers in their work that has been planned. To it have been appointed many men of many tongues and colors and

The sessions of the conference in Edinburgh will be held in assembly hall and synod hall, two of the most notable buildings of the ancient and picturesque capital of Scotland. The former edifice is entered through the beautiful quadrangle of the New college. It contains seats for more than 2,000 persons and is especially adapted to the purposes of public speaking, a speaker in any part of the house being in full view of the entire assembly. The acoustics of the building are admirable.

No doubt some of the delegates from denominations opposed to theatrical representations will comment on the transformation of a theater into a hall devoted, for the time being at least, to the advancement of the cause of the gospel.

Trips into "Scott's country" and to other points of interest have been planned for the foreign delegates. An object of great interest to them will be the old house occupied for a number of years by John Knox, the famous Scottish reformer and master spirit of the reformation in his native country. Mr. McBee is one of the delegates at the leaders of other denominations to discuss the evangelization of the world.

It is expressly stated by the heads of the conference that, while united action in regard to spreading Christianity is desired and sought, "the conference does not propose to deal in any way with the grounds of division among Christians, nor is it constituted in a way that would make it competent to do so." It is asserted, however, that "in many indirect ways it may promote practical co-operation, so far as this is possible, without the surrender of conscientious principle and may prepare the way for a larger and more comprehensive unity and especially that some means may be found after the conference is over of maintaining and strengthening the intimate relations into which missionary societies throughout the world have been brought through the co-operation and of continuing the attempt to view the whole fact of Christianity in relation to the whole fact of the non-Christian world."

In writing of the conference in a characteristic article, entitled "A Call to Consider Seriously Our Divisions," Admiral Mahan says:

"Christendom at present is engaged in and purposes still further to press a holy war, a war of offense, of spiritual conquest, for the extension of the kingdom of God, and Christendom at the same time is afflicted at home by a state of division which renders its action at best that of an alliance, with the historical weakness therein inhering, rather than that of a single united nation, concentrated in force as in object. The onset consequently is not in mass, but as it were, in disconnected assaults aiming at the same results, but lacking in that reasoned combination of effort by which many attacks become essentially one. This is the wide difference between the blow of a single great projectile and of several smaller of the same aggregate weight—the difference between a shock and an earthquake. The smaller are likely to lack simultaneousness of impact, and in concentrated momentum they are certain to fall short of the larger."

Some of the ablest men of Great Britain are interested in the conference as officials and are working for its success. The president is the Right Hon. Lord Balfour of Burleigh, the well known statesman who has held high offices in various British governments. The vice presidents are Lord Reid, the famous educator and statesman; Sir A. H. L. Fraser, the Indian administrator who recently visited America, and Sir John H. Kennaway, member of parliament.

English Folk Songs in America. According to a correspondent of the London Times, there is still a field, fertile in promise, for the discovery of English folk songs in some of the "wild places" of North America. "From Fort St. Michael down to San Francisco, the Dan and Beersheba of the Pacific slope," this writer claims to have found vestiges of English folk music. "The popular music lullaby, whether the product of London or New York or Chicago, has succeeded in reaching these remote embayments of western life," but its popularity has been ephemeral.

First Among Roosevelt Greeters

Will Be the Young Woman Who Will Become Mrs. T. Roosevelt, Jr., on June 20.

THERE will be delegations of distinguished men to greet Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, returning laureled from Europe, when he reaches America on June 18. There will be reception committees and welcoming steamers and brass bands and parades. He will be delighted to see and hear them, and he will say so, but his warmest words will not be for them—not at all; not by a great deal. They are reserved for Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander, the young woman who, two days after the colonel's arrival, will become the bride of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., his oldest son.

On the other hand, the returning traveler will have no warmer admirer in line than his future daughter-in-law. She is on record as saying that she will go way down New York Bay to meet him with the foremost of the reception committees. "You see," she said, "I don't know Colonel Roosevelt very well, and I want him to like me. I know I shall like him as well as I do the rest of the family. Ethel has been one of my most intimate friends for a long time, and I am very, very fond of her mother, whom I came to know quite well when I was their guest at Oyster Bay in November, after their return from Europe."

That phrase, "I want him to like me," throws a delightful side light on the disposition of Miss Alexander. She is a most charming, ingenious, natural young society girl, "nice" in every sense of the word. And, although she professes to be anxious to have Colonel Roosevelt "like" her, there is no doubt that he already has more than a liking for her. Indeed, when the announcement of the engagement of his son to Miss Alexander was cabled to him last February he gave utterance to a loud and most emphatic "Hully," and a cablegram of congratulation to both of the young persons followed very quickly.

Miss Alexander and the younger Roosevelt have been acquainted for about two years. They met first at a house party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge in Simsbury, Conn. It was not a case of love at first sight, according to Miss Alexander, for she did not meet her future fiancee for some time. They renewed their acquaintance at President Taft's inaugural ball, and since that time they have been devoted to each other.

of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, 4 West Fifty-eighth street. It is to be a very large affair, as the Alexanders are popular in New York society and have a large circle of friends. Naturally also the presence of Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt will necessitate provision for an assemblage of their friends.

Miss Ethel Roosevelt, sister of the bridegroom, will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding. The maid of honor will be Miss Elizabeth Bertrou, elum of Miss Alexander.

While no announcement of the plans of the future Mr. and Mrs. Theodore hunting trips, his exploits on the football field and elsewhere, have been followed with close interest by the public from the time of the older Roosevelt's election to the governorship of New York state. He will be twenty-three years old on Sept. 13. He is the oldest of the four sons of Colonel Roosevelt and the present Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Allen Roosevelt Longworth being his half sister.

Wherever the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Jr., may be its mistress will bring to it a full equipment of social graces and a complete knowledge of social requirements. Her family has been prominent in New York society for a long time and has extensive connections among the people creeds, but all animated with the purpose of Christianizing the heathen and the unbeliever.

In its scope and size the world's missionary conference is no ordinary convention. Other assemblages of the sort have held the world's attention and have spread their influence to remote corners of the globe, but never before has there been one of such magnitude. For it preparations have been making for more than a year. An idea of its importance may be gained from the fact that 1,000 delegates, representing all denominations of the Christian church engaged in foreign missionary work, are expected to attend and take part in the deliberations. There will be from the United States about 400 delegates, among the most distinguished of whom are William Jennings Bryan, Silas McBee, editor of the Churchman, New York, and Rear Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, U. S. N., retired, the famous authority on naval affairs.

ble, and it is said to be one of the finest halls for debating in the world. The synod hall, where parallel sessions of the conference will be held to discuss various phases of missionary work, was erected many years ago as a theater for the production of Shakespearean and other high class plays. The scheme was a financial failure, and the building was purchased by the United Presbyterian church and reconstructed as a central hall for church meetings. It is now the property of the town council of Edinburgh. This hall also accommodates more than 2,000, and its acoustics are very fine.

large to the conference from the United States and vice chairman of the commission on co-operation and unity. For several weeks he toured the continent of Europe, interesting high church authorities of various denominations in the conference and securing their promises to send delegates. Among the church dignitaries who will take a prominent part in the deliberations will be the archbishops of Canterbury and York, the heads of the Established church in England. It is believed that the conference will afford the first instance in centuries of the meeting of the heads of the English church with

Roosevelt, Jr., has been made. It is understood that after the honeymoon the bridegroom will return to the carpet manufacturing business, in which he has been engaged since the fall of 1903, at Thompsonville, Conn. It is believed, however, that he will not return to Thompsonville, but will become manager of a western branch of his house. He has been very assiduous in his attention to business and has devoted to it a great deal of the earnestness which he shares with his distinguished father. The resemblance between the two has been the subject of much comment ever since Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was old enough to attract public notice. His career at Groton school and at Harvard, where he was graduated two years ago, his whose names are found in the social register. Her mother was Miss Grace Green, one of the daughters of Albert W. Green, a prominent merchant of New York, who died about ten years ago. Miss Alexander's father was connected with one of the American legations in Europe as counselor. Miss Alexander is twenty-one years old and is pretty, girlish and vivacious. She made her debut in society in 1907 and has been very popular among the younger set in New York and elsewhere. She is musical in her tastes, plays the violin with skill and has been connected with the Symphony club of New York, an organization devoted to interpreting the works of the great masters of music.

THE HEALTH DEPT. KILLED HIMSELF

Will Have More Work to Do

The board of health, city clerk, doctors and others are up against it on a revised United States certificate of death. The certificate calls for a deal of information and is called the "standard certificate of death." All deaths registered in the several states and cities constituting the registration are supposed to be collected upon the blanks in question. It is claimed that the bureau of the census will then be able to co-operate much more efficiently with state and city registration officials in the dissemination of instructions to physicians and others for the proper reporting of deaths. The certificate is fearfully and wonderfully made and it looks like more work for the doctors.

EXPLORER PEARY

LEFT BERLIN FOR LONDON THIS MORNING

BERLIN, June 9.—Commander Robert E. Peary, who was served here yesterday with papers in a suit brought by Rudolph Franke, left for London this morning. The American explorer had nothing to add today to his statement of last night that he had placed the matter of the litigation to the American Ambassador Hill. Franke was associated with Dr. Frederick Cook in North Polar explorations. He alleges that Peary found him at Etah and took advantage of his condition to secure his collection of furs and walrus and narwhal teeth as the price for transporting him home. Franke demands $10,000 as the value of the Arctic products which he claims to have had handed over to the commander. The suit was brought in the Berlin courts, notice of the action being served upon Peary when he arrived here yesterday to fill a lecture engagement.

The fakirs are taxed $1 for permission to sell their goods in the streets for one day, canes, balloons and lemonade of all colors.

BLOODY MASSACRE

Indian Insurgents Murdered People in Valladolid, Yucatan

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—With telegraph wires cut and operators murdered, others forced to flee for their lives, definite information is lacking as to the present situation at Valladolid, Yucatan, the scene of a bloody massacre by Indian insurgents several days ago. Mergre advice received by the government yesterday estimate the number of killed at 40.

More than 2000 Indians are said to have been engaged in the attack. The insurgents held Valladolid at last accounts, having fortified themselves in the jail and other buildings.

Federal and state troops and volunteers, numbering more than 2000 men, are about to march on the rebels.

Reports as to the cause of the outbreak are conflicting. Whatever its origin, it appears to have had some semblance of organization, and is said to have been led by political malcontents.

After sacking the building containing the public offices, the rioters turned their attention to Jose Politico Regil, who with many citizens had taken refuge in a building.

Butchery followed. The wife of Regil left her four children and went to the east corner where her husband, Regil, was cut down before the eyes of his wife and his body was hanged to a pole.

The wife also is said to have been murdered as were all of the 20 men in the building. Later the six gendarmes in the town met a similar fate. The people were terrified. The mob surged through the town, crying for blood and pillage. Victor Quesada, judge of the first instance, was assassinated. Other victims were Florentino Echarra, commander of the police; Jose Maria Hernandez, second in command; Pedro Hernandez, mayor of the town, and the treasurer, Jose E. Triay. It is said that Triay was put to death after horrible tortures.

ARMY OFFICERS

To Report at So. Framingham Camp

While the war department is willing to spend money liberally in its attempt to make the national guard efficient, it is also determined to see that officers holding commissions in the various organizations are competent to fill positions they occupy. With this in view schools have been established throughout the country for the education of officers under competent instructors, so that when the time comes for examination these officers will be able to give a good account of themselves before the board.

The school for the officers of the Massachusetts militia will open at the muster field, South Framingham, tomorrow morning, and it is expected over 300 officers will attend. The only officers excluded being the pay department, medical officers and chaplains.

In addition to the officers' usual equipment, every captain and lieutenant will have to take with him a rifle and his equipment.

All the officers will live during Friday, Saturday and Sunday under canvas and will have army rations.

Capt. Elmer T. Orr, superintendent of the arsenal, has been appointed post quartermaster, and with a gang of men was actively engaged yesterday in picking quarters for the officers of the regular army, 15 in number, who are to act as instructors, and for the officers of the M. I. B. G. Gen. James G. White, commissary general, has arranged for the mess, which will be served in one of the large mess halls on the grounds, while Brig. Gen. William B. Emery, quartermaster general, is providing every comfort for the officers in the shape of camp equipment.

The camp will be under command of Brig. Gen. Embury P. Clark of the 1st brigade, with Maj. Walter I. Sanborn, his adjutant general, Maj. Frank P. Williams, 8th infantry, post surgeon.

The program of studies mapped out by the army officers promises to be a strenuous one, as the officers will put in some of the best days of their studies. They include map reading, patrolling, camping, instruction under arms, tactical talks on the rifle and practical talks on camping, field orders, marching, etc.

LOSES HIS RANK

Praising Rescuer Causes Inspector's Downfall

PROVIDENCE, June 8.—If Ernest Wilkinson had been less active in his efforts to reward properly the man who saved him from drowning last week, it would still be an inspector on the Providence police force. Instead of a policeman, to which rank he was reduced yesterday.

This was the way it happened. On Saturday Wilkinson and his son went fishing. They hired a boat and tried their luck in the waters of the Woonasquicket. The boat tipped over before they caught a bite.

The youngest swim to shore safely. Wilkinson couldn't swim and his drowning impeded him to such a degree his chances of getting ashore appeared a good deal slimmer than he has been these many years, when a French Canadian farmer went to his rescue.

The result was that Wilkinson was saved, for which he was very grateful. This is proven by the fact he went so far as to write to Gov. Abraham D. Smith, who is, as everyone knows, a French Canadian, and told him of the heroism of his fellow countryman.

This much for history. Yesterday the letter Wilkinson sent Gov. Dorr was published. Wilkinson's superior read it. Then the question came to their minds, what was Wilkinson doing fishing on Woonasquicket Saturday?

Evidently they asked Wilkinson the same question and he couldn't give a satisfactory answer, for, according to Wilkinson's superiors, he was supposed to be on his inspectorship job at the time he was fishing.

THE HIPPODROME

LOWELL'S LATEST OPEN AIR AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISE

Washington park is the scene of great activity these days, and amid the buzz of saws and hundreds of workmen hammering and building various things, calling for this and that, stands the head of Lowell's Hippodrome, Mr. Carl L. Perlin, as cool as can be, directing the different gangs of men, looking over every bit of work done and seeing to it personally that Washington park will be a credit to our city when the doors swing open on next Monday afternoon for the summer season of Perlin's Hippodrome.

Mr. Perlin was asked by a reporter of this paper if the park would be ready and replied: "My dear man, I built many of these open air amusement resorts, and you take my word for it we will be all completed by next Saturday. I look at this open air sufficient to convince anyone that Mr. Perlin means it. He is a man who at first glance will tell the onlooker he was born to rule men and command, and to see him quietly but firmly giving his orders and not once having to refer to any notes or papers, carrying all these things in his mind's eye, is certainly proof of his capability."

The park is being entirely changed and many new features added to it, making it a clean and bright place for the pleasure loving people of Lowell to go to and see a performance, the equal of which has never been seen in our city.

The bill for the opening week is a lengthy one, and every turn on it is one of merit and all headlines, and the admission will be ten cents, giving the patron a two hour and a half show for this nominal price.

PROTECT PETROLEUM INDUSTRY
VIENNA, June 9.—The Austrian ministry of finance, commerce and railways have decided upon joint administrative measures for the protection of the home petroleum industry against the formidable imports being made by the Vacuum Oil Co., the Austrian branch of the Standard Oil Co. The plan is to take advantage of every technicality of the mining laws in order to hamper the Vacuum people who will be compelled also to the strictest observance of their charter, especially the provision limiting the output of their refineries. The quantity specified in the charter is being constantly exceeded by the company. It is asserted.

In the event that these steps do not suffice to accomplish the purpose sought, the Austrian and Hungarian parliaments will be asked to legislate to the detriment of the American interests.

MEDFORD WOMAN

FOUND SON SHE THOUGHT WAS KIDNAPPED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 9.—Alfred Brigham, the 3-year-old boy whose mother, believing he had been kidnapped by his father, appealed to the police Monday night to find him, is on his way to Medford, Mass., with both of his parents, although James M. Brigham and his wife Olive E. are not riding in the same car and their divorce suit is still pending. The child was found through newspaper publicity.

Mrs. Brigham learned that Brigham was preparing to leave for the East. She rushed to the station and found the boy with his father, who had already bought a ticket for Boston, intending to leave Los Angeles yesterday afternoon. The father, upon seeing the police Monday night to find him, is on his way to Medford, Mass., with both of his parents, although James M. Brigham and his wife Olive E. are not riding in the same car and their divorce suit is still pending. The child was found through newspaper publicity.

HER SAFE STOLEN

BUT PROVIDENCE WOMAN DID NOT KNOW IT

PROVIDENCE, June 9.—It was under the impression he was a bearer of welcome news that a policeman entered the Colonial, a theatrical boarding house on Westminster street, and addressed himself to Mrs. Minnie E. Donnelly, the manager.

"The Taunton police have your safe back and they're right on the trail of the yeggs that stole it," he announced.

"My safe! Safe it!" exclaimed Mrs. Donnelly. "What are you talking about, man? I haven't had any safe stolen."

"Isn't this the Colonial and aren't you Mrs. Donnelly?" asked the officer.

"Yes, of course."

"Well, then, all I've got to say is your safe was stolen, whether you know it or not."

And investigation proved he was right. The Colonial's safe was stolen Tuesday, although nobody missed it. The thieves evidently drove a team in the alley back of the house and then two of them entered it, took the safe, got it down a flight of stairs and over the back fence in plain daylight.

And then the only reason the Taunton police got hold of it was because the thieves tried to hire an automobile in that city and, finding they didn't have money enough, left it with a garage keeper, saying they would return. They didn't, and the garage keeper turned it over to the police.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

WOMAN DIRECTED AN EXHIBITION BY CHILDREN

GLoucester, June 9.—Mrs. Lilla Viles Wyman of Boston, a teacher of dancing, and Harry Barber, a dancing teacher of this city, were found not guilty in the district court yesterday by Judge York on the charge of violating the employment statute by exhibiting children under 15 years of age at the May 7 festival recently given in this city. On the complaint of exhibiting children without first obtaining a permit to do so from the mayor and aldermen they were found guilty, but because of the triviality of the technicality the judge placed the complaint on file.

The case has been closely watched by church societies and others giving such exhibitions in the community. The decision by Judge York in effect is that so long as these children take part in festivals by invitation and without pay, and so long as the managers first secure a permit to exhibit from the mayor and council or selectmen, they are strictly within the law.

Inspector Angus McDonald of the district police said the case had been brought because of complaint laid before his superiors. He thought that the opinion of the attorney general in relation to the issuance of a permit was opposed to the decision of Judge York, but the latter insisted that the statute governing the matter was very clear, and he said that the offense was merely technical.

WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—The second round of the championship of the Women's Eastern Golf association was played today at the Huntington Valley Country club at Noble. The championship competition consists of 72 holes, medal play, 18 holes being played each day. The first round of 18 holes was played yesterday.

Mrs. Wheeler of Boston, the present champion of the Eastern Golf association, leads the field with the low score of 56 strokes and is closely followed by Mrs. R. H. Barlow of Philadelphia and Miss E. C. Osmond of Boston with 57 each.

Candidate for President Arrested

MONTEREY, Mex., June 9.—Without any defense, Francisco I. Madero, candidate for the presidency of the republic, stood before Judge Travano yesterday and was declared a formal prisoner. Subsequently he said that he had refused the privilege of defense on the ground that he had no faith in justice at this time. The opposition press condemn the arrest and the government papers praise it.

Madero was arrested as he and his wife were boarding a train to leave the city. He was charged with having assisted Roque Estrada to escape service of a warrant for an offense which he is alleged to have committed last Sunday. The nature of the offense was not disclosed. Estrada surrendered yesterday.

KILLED 135 SNAKES

MEN PERFORMED THE FEAT IN 40 MINUTES

NEW YORK, June 9.—Peter Leach, a farmer of New Springfield, S. I., decided that he had bothered with a white birch sapling near his house as long as he was going to. He put his axe over his shoulder and started along an old rail fence to cut it down.

Just as he reached it he had to jump back to escape stepping on a great ball of snakes. He yelled for Joseph Scully, one of his hands, to come to his assistance, and the two men killed 135 snakes in the next forty minutes.

They ranged in size from six inches to two feet, and Leach and Scully are going to take the stump for local option.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MET

BOSTON, June 9.—Interesting papers upon infanticide paralysis at the morning session, a banquet at the Mechanics building in the afternoon and an entertainment at the Brookline Country club last night, marked the 29th annual meeting of the Massachusetts Medical society in Boston yesterday.

At the morning session a resolution was passed unanimously supporting the bill of Senator Owen for a federal public health department.

Gov. Eben S. Draper was the principal guest at the afternoon banquet, and with Rev. Thomas Van Ness and Norman White made addresses.

VALUABLE PAPERS

Said to Have Been Recovered

VICTORIA, B. C., June 9.—A sensation was caused in Japan, according to information received here today, by the discovery of a box deposited with a missionary priest at Seoul by a nephew of the ex-emperor containing originals of treaties between Korea and Japan and other papers reported to the late Prince Ito as lost. The original seal of Korea, said to have been lost, was found in the box. In connection with the discovery, papers are alleged to have been found indicating the forgery of the seal on the contract with Colbran and Bowditch, two Americans, for the construction of the Seoul electric railroad. The ex-emperor's nephew was arrested by the Japanese authorities.

RICH MAN'S COACH

WAS HELD UP BY MASKED "ROBBERS"

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9.—A spectacular stage robbery was pulled off yesterday by four masked men, who held up and robbed the English stage coach driven by the young millionaire, Harry Whitney Trent, from Hotel Washington to Seattle Golf and Country club.

Ten solitary women on board were robbed of $7500 worth of valuables. All the traditional methods were employed and the highwaymen were polite but stern. It soon leaked out, however, that the robberies were planned by the husbands of some of the women on the coach, and the only semi-professional was "Red" Gleason, a tough water front character, who did the talking and gathered the loot from the women.

When he was notified by the chief of police he was wanted, he confessed.

The valuables were restored to the ladies after they reached the clubhouse.

ABDUCTION CASE

ENDED IN A WEDDING AT HARTFORD

HARTFORD, Conn., June 9.—There was a romantic ending yesterday to the bringing here from Montreal, Can., for trial of John M. Shew, a student in McGill university, on a charge of abduction. Three years ago, while known as Lieut. Cox, U. S. N., he left Hartford with Annie Behner, aged 16. The pair were located in Canada about three months ago, and Shew, alias Cox, arrested.

In the superior court Tuesday afternoon the case against him was nolleed and he rushed from the prisoner's pen into the arms of the girl who was in the court room. Yesterday they were married by a justice of the peace, and they left yesterday afternoon for Montreal.

The girl's father, who spent much money in searching for her, signed an agreement to the marriage, the understanding being that the couple would leave town at once and remain away.

A short chase followed and he was overhauled. He was later identified by Miss Tober and also by a Miss Helen Downey, who said she had been stopped by the man.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH
The regular monthly meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality will be held this evening and a large number is expected to be present. Several new members were received in a few weeks ago as a result of the triduum given by the Jesuit fathers. The director, Rev. W. George Mullin, gives interesting readings and benediction is given at each meeting.

DIAMOND RING

WAS FOUND IN CODFISH BY STANLEY KEDDER

WEST BREVSTER, June 9.—Stanley T. Kedder, while cleaning a codfish which he bought from a local fish dealer yesterday, found in the fish a diamond ring which he estimates to be worth $50.

Kedder declares the ring must have been inside the fish for two or three years, because it had turned partly black. The original color of pure 14-karat gold, however, was restored when he used polish. The ring had engraved in fancy lettering on the inside, "K. D. O., 1904." Mr. Kedder says he paid 45 cents for the codfish and considers he got a good bargain.

PASSENGERS LANDED

NORFOLK, Va., June 9.—All hands who were aboard the Philadelphia barkentine Good News, which was lost off Hatteras while bound from Philadelphia to Mobile with a cargo of cement, were landed here last night by the British steamer Atlantic. They were Captain Erickson of Baltimore, master of the vessel, ten men, and Miss Elizabeth Erickson, a daughter of the master.

The Good News foundered on June 3, having sprung a leak during a gale. The vessel went down in a turbulent sea. They roared three days and were nearly exhausted when at last picked up by the Aetna.

HELD IN $2500

FORMER FINANCIAL CLERK CHARGED WITH LARCENY

NEW YORK, June 9.—John J. McArthur, formerly financial clerk of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Public Charities, was arrested yesterday and held for trial in $2500 bonds, on charges of grand larceny preferred by Raymond B. Fosdick, the commissioner of accounts. The affidavit, on which the warrant was granted, instances the specific larceny of $30 from $5 paid over by a father for the support of his three children who were in city institutions, and closes with this statement:

"The defendant, Raymond B. Fosdick, has proof of approximately 360 similar cases of similar appropriations."

McArthur is now a bookkeeper in the fire department. Commissioner Fosdick says that his resignation from that department of public charities was requested by the superintendent of the children's bureau on January 21, 1910.

It carries exhibits of power and individual spraying outfits, tilling, seeding and harvesting machinery arranged and operated on two flat cars, also two baggage cars filled with general farming, orcharding, forestry and stock raising exhibits. One of the flat cars in the train is given up to poultry and veterinary science with a miniature representation of a farm, showing proper crop rotations. Professors Gardner, Bell, Campbell, Tower, Russell (Barren) are the lecturers on the tour. The first three days will be passed in Washington county.

DEATH OF DICKINSON

Not Due to Accident Says Head of Casualty Company

NEW YORK, June 9.—Charles Coulter Dickinson, former president of the Carnegie Trust Co., who died on May 14 after a trip to a chemical laboratory at Scranton, Pa., did not come to his end by accident, according to a signed statement issued today by F. DeLeon, president of the Casualty Co. of America. This company held $55,000 of accident insurance on the banker's life.

CLAIMS MILLIONS

Son of Famous Inventor Seeks a Gigantic Fortune

NEW YORK, June 9.—The claim to a gigantic fortune made out of the telephone business lies behind the efforts of the children of Herbert L. Todd to learn something of the fate of their father, who disappeared twenty years ago. The last known of the missing man was that he was in London, where he had gone on the invitation of Major Wilbur E. Melbourne, in the summer of 1889.

For a year Mr. Todd's family heard from him regularly. Then, suddenly, his letters ceased. His last letter is dated June 3, 1890. It is in the possession of his son, Charles William Todd, who is forty years old, of No. 503 Washington street, Newark. The letter is written on the letter head of the Negotiation Syndicate, Limited, Nos. 73 and 72 Grace church street, London, which, the letter states, was organized.

"I would give all I possess to get even an inkling of what my father's fate has been," said Mr. Todd yesterday. "His disappearance has been a mystery that has baffled our family and cost my grandfather a fortune. All we could ever learn was that a notice of his death appeared in the London Times in 1892. We could never learn how, when or where he died."

Mr. Todd thinks his father was the victim of foul play, and that his death netted a fortune of millions to those who were associated with him in commercializing his invention, which is today universally used on the long distance telephone. The missing man patented his invention in this country on August 23, 1887. The number of his patent was 368,628. It is on record in Washington to Mr. Todd's credit, with the various transfers of the patent rights to himself and his associates, and to the Todd Transcontinental Telephone company, in which Mr. Todd was the controlling factor. His family hold certificates for 51,000 shares in the company, which was capitalized at $10,000,000. The company was incorporated under the laws of the state of Indiana on September 17, 1887.

Mr. Todd has all his father's patent papers, and the certificates of stock. He also showed the patent record in England. He says he will pay a large reward for authentic news of his father's fate.

BACHELOR OF LAW

Newsboy is Handed His Sheepskin

NEW YORK, June 9.—In the graduating class of New York University, at the commencement exercises yesterday, was a bright-faced youth of 29 who, by the receipt of his sheepskin added the letters LL. B. to his name, which is I. Harry Coyne. He smiled as he took the precious parchment.

"Well, I've proved that a newsboy can make good, anyhow!"

Young Coyne is a newsboy and has been one ever since he was seven years old. The sale of papers, penny by penny, has supported him and his mother, sent him through school through college, and will keep him until he is actually Attorney Coyne, with his shingle out and his retailers coming in.

The boy's father died when he was seven, leaving him and the mother with no resources but their luck. That was in Newark. At once the youngster undertook the man's size job of supporting two, and made good at it.

In the mornings, early, he sold papers at street corners, hustled home for breakfast, scurried off to school, in the early afternoon, with the permission of his teachers, he departed before all the classes were out, and got busy with the evening editions. What little time he had left between supper and bed he used for study. There was no playtime for Harry Coyne those days, and there hasn't been any since, summer of 1889.

For eleven years he kept this up. His business increased as he grew older. He supported himself and his mother in comparative comfort, though many a time, as he says, "it was a tight fit." But always he was working for more than that. He determined to be a lawyer.

Two years ago he came to New York, took a room at No. 215 Columbus avenue and acquired a newspaper route about that neighborhood. At 4 o'clock each morning, winter and summer, he was out serving his papers, and still is. After classes, he acts as agent for a Newark publication, and that keeps him busy until night.

LIVELY RUNAWAY

Several Persons Had Narrow Escapes From Injury

Quite a spectacular runaway occurred in Central street shortly after the noon hour today. The horse came to grief when it turned the corner from Central to Merrimack street. The horse was attached to a wagon marked A. P. C. Compressed Yeast Co. It was somewhere in Central street that the horse decided to see how it stood as a runner and it was making good, so far as speed is concerned, until it reached Merrimack street, where it slipped and went over on its back. Robert Hollingworth was Johnnie on the spot. He made for the horse's head and held it down until the harness was removed. One of the horse's legs was badly scratched. No other damage was done. There were a few narrow escapes from serious injury, however, and had the horse retained its feet it would have sailed into the store on the opposite side of the street. It was aimed that way and a number of people were on the sidewalk in front of the store. Had the horse rushed onto the sidewalk there is no telling what might have happened in the way of accident.

THE KELIHER CASE

The Defense Continued its Effort to Discredit Coleman

BOSTON, June 9.—The defense in the trial of W. J. Keliher had several remaining witnesses ready to put on the stand when court opened in the federal building today. Keliher, who is charged with aiding and abetting George W. Coleman of misapplication of the funds of the wrecked National City bank of Cambridge, would testify in his own behalf, it was said, and would probably be the last witness called.

The defense continued its effort to discredit Coleman and also to maintain its claim that Keliher was ignorant of the source of Coleman's money supply. Joseph F. Gately, a chauffeur who took Coleman and two women to Keliher's house in Winthrop after the bank closed, testified that while coming back he talked with Coleman, and the latter said that Keliher did not know that he (Coleman) was taking money from the bank. Coleman said that he expected to get fifteen years, "and I am going to take Keliher along with me as well as some others."

Coleman paid the chauffeur $15 from a big roll of bills, although the charge was only $4. This was after Coleman's arrest. In his testimony as a witness for the government Coleman stated that he went twice to see Keliher in order to get back some of the bank's money. In contradiction of Coleman's statement that he had no dealings with the attorney for a few days, relative to certain notes, C. F. Johnson, a lawyer, testified that Coleman came to his office with the jeweler and wanted to settle up the matter.

The defense then took up the John R. Marshall phase of the case. It was the government's claim that Marshall was a fictitious name given by Keliher or his friend, Martin Walsh, and that acting under that name Keliher hired offices and sent money to Coleman. The defense admitted its inability to locate the real Marshall but placed several witnesses on the stand who claimed that they knew such a person, that he agreed with the government's description but that he was not Keliher nor Walsh. One witness was with Marshall and Keliher when $200 was sent in Marshall's name to Coleman at Kansas City.

Other witnesses saw Marshall at 8 Beacon street, where he had an office, and they also saw Keliher there with him. The last seen of Marshall was when he was about to start for Chicago.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Caused by Fire on Spectacle Island

BOSTON, June 9.—A fire which could be seen many miles out to sea, destroyed the boiler room and tankage warehouse owned by the N. Ward Lendering company on Spectacle island in Boston harbor early today. The fire, which started in the boiler room from some unknown cause, quickly spread to the warehouse, heavily stocked with vats containing garbage which made excellent fuel for the flames. Although the damage will be very heavy the representatives of the company were unable to state approximately the extent of their loss.

DOGS POISONED

ONE OF THREE VALUABLE ANIMALS IS DEAD

Ex-Alderman Joseph McDonald and his brother, who reside in Mammoth road, in Dracut, and just over the city lines, had three valuable dogs poisoned the night before last. The poison, which was sprinkled on the lawn by some person, was eaten by the dogs and as a result one is dead and the other two are in a critical condition. Neither of the McDonalds knows any reason why the dogs should have been bothered, but they suspect a certain party who may be later haled into court to answer to a serious charge.

ROOSEVELT DAY

Immense Throng Expected at Reception to Ex-President

NEW YORK, June 8.—Responses to the invitations sent out by the Roosevelt reception committee indicate that a large number of distinguished persons will welcome the ex-president when he returns from abroad Saturday morning, June 18.

Elaborate preparations have been made by the committee, which expects an enormous throng at Battery park, and by the police department, which also anticipates a record-breaking crowd.

Among those who have accepted invitations to sit on the stand are Gov. Henry B. Quinn of New Hampshire, Gov. Franklin B. Rowland of New Jersey, U. S. Senator F. P. Flint of California, Dr. Charles F. Smith, commissioner of labor, Lawrence O. Murray, controller of the currency, Senator H. C. Lodge of Massachusetts, Representative Hamilton Fish, Henry M. Goldfogle, William Sulzer, Herbert Parsons, W. W. Cocks and C. V. Farnes of New York and John W. Langley of Kentucky, Edward R. O'Malley, attorney general of New York, Arthur H. Cheney, superintendent of banks, Clifford Pinchot, ex-chief forester, Dr. L. S. Royce of the American academy of political science, Gen. Luke E. Wright, ex-secretary of the navy, Fire Commissioner Waldo and Booker T. Washington.

Cutters Down the Bay

William K. Loeb, Jr., collector of the customs, has arranged with the governor for a detail of four revenue cutters to go down the bay when Col. Roosevelt arrives. They are the Androscoggin, which will carry the men, the Mohawk, which will have on board a delegation of congressmen and other distinguished persons in Washington, the Manhattan, which will be devoted to friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, and the fleet Genera, which will be turned over to newspaper correspondents and photographers.

Among those who will probably go down the bay on the Manhattan are Rear Admiral and Mrs. W. E. Cowles and W. S. Cowles, Jr., of Farmington, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Douglas Robinson and Mrs. Douglas Robinson of Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Roosevelt and G. Hall Roosevelt of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alsop of Woodford farm, Avon, Conn.; Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Miss Eleanor B. Alexander, his fiancée, and Mrs. H. A. Alexander, Archibald and Quentin Roosevelt at the foot of the steps of this stand and mount it with him. The reception committee will follow Col. Roosevelt off the boat and take places in the reserved enclosure.

Reception Stand

It has been decided to raise the small stand from which Mayor Gaynor and Col. Roosevelt will speak high enough to permit all those within the range of vision to see the men. It has also been arranged that the mayor shall greet Col. Roosevelt at the foot of the steps of this stand and mount it with him. The reception committee will follow Col. Roosevelt off the boat and take places in the reserved enclosure.

This enclosure will also be occupied by upward of 2000 invited guests. After the speeches, the police will make a path along the western edge of the enclosure and through this Col. Roosevelt, Mayor Gaynor and Chairman Vanderbilt, who will occupy the first carriage, will be followed by the committee members, who will also occupy carriages. Cards will be given to the committee, showing the number of the carriage to be occupied by each, so that there will be no confusion in starting the procession.

MANY NOTABLES TO SAIL

NEW YORK, June 8.—More than 700 cabin passengers, including many notable, will embark on the steamship Kaiserin Augusta Victoria with Col. Roosevelt and family on June 10. Cable advices received here yesterday by the line give the plans for Col. Roosevelt's departure.

He will be accompanied by Sir Edward Grey and will walk from New Forest to Southampton station, where he will board the special train, which will convey him, Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit, Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth from London. The party will occupy the royal saloon on the train and at Southampton a special tender will convey them to the steamship anchored in the Solent.

ABERNATHY ARRIVES

NEW YORK, June 8.—John R. Abernathy, U. S. marshal from Oklahoma, is in town. He has come here to meet Theodore Roosevelt on his return from abroad and to be with the boys when they whom it up on June 18. Marshal Jack is the man who catches the elusive wolf with his bare hands, and he is the advance guard of the rough riding cowboy cohorts who are coming to join in the big show.

"Easiest alive Jack" was at the hotel Brooklyn yesterday when a reporter called to ask him about his two boys, who are on the last stretch of their remarkable horseback ride from Oklahoma to New York. The papers have recently been filled with accounts of the exploits of the Abernathy kids, Louis, who is 10, and Temple, 5, and Marshal Jack shines just now in the reflected glory of his offspring.

"I am waiting for a message now," he said, which will tell me of their progress in Baltimore. The boys have sent me a card from each place they have stopped in and several long letters.

"Those boys were brought up on horseback. Louis can ride anything I can, and I have seen him on some mighty wicked horses. He has never been thrown. The little fellow was thrown once. His horse shied and pitched him off so he struck on his head, but he got up right away and when some women advised him to leave the horse alone he just brought his head together and said, 'I'm going to ride that horse.' He did and he didn't get thrown any more.

"This isn't the first ride they have taken, for they went to Mexico on a 2300-mile trip some time ago and they had all sorts of experiences. Next to his own boys, Marshal Abernathy likes best to talk about Col. Roosevelt.

"I don't think that another man as fine as he ever lived on this earth or ever will live on it again," was the way he expressed himself in talking of his hero. "I would have thought just as much of Mr. Roosevelt if he had never met me as I would of him if I want to tell you that the state of Oklahoma feels the same way about him as I do."

Police Officer Struck With Stone

BOSTON, June 8.—While arresting a young man on the charge of drunkenness at Heath and Bickford streets, Roxbury, about 10 last night, Patrolman Thomas McGrade of the Roxbury Crossing division was set upon by a gang of men and boys. McGrade's scalp was torn when he was struck by a stone and he was otherwise roughly handled, but held onto his prisoner.

During the excitement McGrade and his prisoner were forced into the doorway of a saloon at 55 Heath street. The missiles thrown by the gang worked havoc with the saloon windows, two large plate windows, 10x12 feet, being broken.

Frank A. Donnelly, 27 years old, of 14 Bickford street, was the man arrested, being charged with drunkenness. Before the excitement subsided Sergeant O'Neil and Patrolman Lyons arrested James P. Griffin, 21 years old, of 26 Walden street, and Joseph Bradley, 23, of 122 Heath street, on the charge of attempting to rescue a prisoner.

McGrade, who is one of the most popular officers in station 10, was starting for the patrol box with Donnelly when the crowd began to gather. Donnelly, it is alleged, resisted and when his back was turned somebody tripped McGrade. He went down, bringing with him his prisoner. Both rolled about the street until McGrade gained the upper hand, when he again started for the box. A crowd of about 500 had collected and it was with difficulty that McGrade could move a few feet.

While in front of the saloon of Mayland & Co. at 55 Heath street the crowd surged about the officer and he was forced into the doorway. Somebody on the outskirts of the crowd threw a brick, and in a few minutes missiles were flying from all sides. Both plate glass windows were smashed.

Meanwhile a telephone message had been sent to the station house, and Lieut. Lovell dispatched Sgt. O'Neil, Patrolman Lyons and a squad of officers to the scene. After a great deal of work they cleared the street and sent Donnelly to the station house. Before the gang dispersed Patrolman Lyons arrested Griffin and Bradley, both of whom it is claimed, were among the leaders in the attack on McGrade.

HOLY GHOSTS

WERE SET FREE BY THE COURT

AUBURN, Me., June 8.—Mrs. Florence A. Whitaker and her four children, who were removed from the barkentine Kingdom of the Holy Ghost and U. S. society's fleet Monday by Sheriff W. M. Trefethen on a writ of habeas corpus issued on the complaint of Nathan H. Harriman of Cambridge, Mass., who acted in response to letters from the woman alleging that she was held by Frank W. Sandford, the society's leader, against her will, were brought before Associate Justice A. R. Savage of the supreme court late yesterday afternoon.

After a hearing lasting but a few minutes, at which no opposition was made to the prayer of the petitioner, Judge Savage ordered that Mrs. Whitaker and her four children be released and allowed their liberty and that Mrs. Whitaker be given the custody of the children. They will be cared for by her husband's brother, A. A. Whitaker of Presque Isle, who testified that he would take the family and give them a comfortable home.

Mrs. Whitaker simply told the court that she had been held in restraint on the society's craft. Mr. Harriman related what he knew of the case. The Holy Ghost and U. S. society was not represented at the hearing.

ITALIAN "COUNT"

Suspected of Enticing Young Girl Away

NEW YORK, June 8.—Asserting that a plot against him had been formed, Hugh Rodgers, a prosperous real estate broker of Philadelphia yesterday raised to $1000 the reward he offers for the return of his daughter, Elizabeth, 13 years old, and heiress to $25,000, who vanished from her home at 834 South Eighth street, on Memorial day.

She was last reported as headed for New York in company with an Italian "count." Two Italians are said by the father to have spirited his daughter away from the Quaker city. At the same time Mr. Rodgers missed $5000 in cash and $1000 in jewelry.

The money was kept in a safe to which it is avowed, the missing girl had access, being her father's bookkeeper and cashier. Mr. Rodgers had extensive investments in real estate and in harness manufacture. He frequently had large sums of money in an iron safe in an upstairs room of his home. The safe was open and empty when the father went to investigate, after discovering that his daughter had disappeared.

Detectives have been working very quietly looking for the girl since she first disappeared. It then appeared that she had gone out on Memorial day, saying she was going to a cemetery. Since then the police have been working on the theory that she was enticed away.

The Newark police have been working on the case since a request came by telegraph to look out for a girl and an Italian, who had left Philadelphia on a noon train Tuesday, bound for New York. The detectives failed to find any such couple, but were told that two persons corresponding to the description left the train at Waverly, five miles from Newark.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Brockton Man Victim of Accident

BOSTON, June 8.—Edward Lucier, 25 years old, and a resident of Brockton, was struck and fatally injured by a passenger train of the Middleboro branch while he and a companion were walking along the track between Brockton and Avon last night. Lucier's companion was not injured, but the former received injuries from which he died before he could be rushed to a hospital, despite the efforts of a woman doctor and a nurse who were passengers on the train.

Lucier and his companion left Brockton early in the evening to walk to Avon. Lucier, who was employed by a Brockton painter, lived with his parents at 93 East Ashland street. Lucier was walking along an inward bound track. When the Boston bound train, which left Brockton at 7.39, came along he became confused and was struck and hurled a considerable distance.

The engineer immediately stopped the train and the crew and some of the passengers hurried to the assistance of the injured man. Among the first was Dr. Tilton, who did everything possible with her limited means. Miss Evelyn Baker, a nurse at the Union General hospital of Boston, volunteered her services also.

Dr. Tilton found that Lucier had sustained a fracture of the skull. The injured man was placed in the baggage car and the engineer was given orders to make all haste to Quincy so the injured man might be rushed to the hospital.

Lucier died just before the train reached Braintree, and the body was removed and later sent to his home in Brockton.

WORMS

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that his sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

A pure vegetable compound has been the standard household remedy since 1861; it never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only cures the worms, but acts as a preventive of coughs, colds, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

RACE WITH DEATH IN POLICE COURT

Woman Won by Quarter of an Hour

BROCKTON, June 9.—A half-way-around-the-world race with death was won by the scant margin of a quarter of an hour yesterday, when Mrs. Nina Truxbury, a teacher missionary assigned to Japan, reached the bedside of her dying father, John G. Truxbury of this city, just in time to say the last farewell.

It was weeks ago that Mrs. Truxbury, teaching and preaching the gospel in the far away village of Sendai, Japan, received a message, then weeks old, that her father was daily growing feeble and that he had a longing to see her before he died.

The mountain missionaries in Japan cannot leave their posts at a moment's notice. But Mrs. Truxbury hurried, as fast as she could, the necessary transfers and changes that must be made to cover her absence, and within a week was homeward bound.

By Japanese, Japanese railroad, Pacific mail steamer and American railways she traveled toward Brockton. Yesterday morning she stepped into a hack at the Brockton station.

She was driven rapidly to the home of her father on West Bartlett street, where she was met by her sister and the physicians in attendance. She learned then that death was merely a matter of moments and went at once to his bedside.

The aged sufferer recognized her, and held her hands in his until fifteen minutes after her arrival he passed away.

The deceased was a Civil war veteran and prominent in this city, where he lived the greater part of his life. He was 75 years old.

FARMING SPECIAL

CONCORD, N. H., June 9.—The Maine Central, Boston & Maine and Boston & Albany railroads had prepared to run demonstration trains for the promotion of the agricultural interests in Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, but such trains cannot be run in New Hampshire on account of the anti-pass law enacted by the legislature in 1909. This act cuts out all free transportation, except to such people as are permanently engaged in charitable or elementary work, and prevents running the train in New Hampshire.

The prohibitive effect of the law is deplored by former Gov. Macomber, now master of the National grange, who says the railroad would be glad to run such a train in New Hampshire, free of charge, for the benefit that would be derived by the agricultural interests along its line, but the anti-pass law forbids it. "Such trains," he says, "are popular and productive of great good in all sections of the country and it is unfortunate that New Hampshire has a law that deprives the state of such service."

"In aiming to correct an evil, that can be only regarded as supposed, in the issuance of free passes for building up business along a railroad and helping the state, as well as the road, irreparable damage has been done to the development of various industries. Prominent among these is agriculture, which the railroad would like to promote, but the legislators have tied its hands in the matter of special demonstration trains. Some time the prevailing opinion against railroads will subside, and in such a way as to show a vigorous reaction. This will clear the atmosphere and make impossible the injury to business interests that has occurred in this instance. Other states have acted sensibly in allowing the railroads to do things in the interest of the people that would gladly be done here did the law allow it."

AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A great deal of talk was heard yesterday at both ends of the capital, indicating a strong sentiment toward an early adjournment of congress. Among those who thought that the legislative program might be closed up by July 1, at the latest, was Representative Dwight, the republican whip in the house, who expressed this opinion after a talk with President Taft.

Senator Aldrich announced that he intended to leave Washington within a week. He said he hoped the conference on the railroad bill would be concluded by that time.

Nothing definite can be stated, however, until after there has been a formal meeting of the conference on the railroad bill.

OUT ON STRIKE

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 9.—Forty binders and pressers employed at the Rhode Island Perkins hose and shoe works, Valley Falls, struck late yesterday because of the refusal of the managers of the plant to readjust the methods of paying wages. The plant, one of the largest of its kind in the United States, employs about 200 men.

Trouble at Merrimack Mills Aired in Court

Police court this morning was brief, and the offenders were allowed to go in short order. Judge Hadley informed the men who appeared before him that they ought to change their lives. There was a dispute in the vicinity of the Merrimack mills this morning and as a result there were several men in court charged with obstructing the street. Their cases were continued until June 11th.

It seems that there is a little trouble at this mill and these men, it is alleged, attempted to stop some others from going into work. Their names are Demetrious Pappas, Louis Meys, Derbyshire clergyman.

Theodoras, Paficullinals, Fontis Ramais Spannos. Their bail was placed at $200 and their case will be heard by the court Saturday morning.

John J. Biddgett was before the court for the third time and was fined $5. John August has been in court before and he was given one month in jail. Ralph Clark will serve 20 days in jail, and Annie J. Maher six months. There were seven fines, and four releases.

Sir George was born March 12, 1861, and formerly was a liberal member of parliament representing Swanscombe. He was the son of a Derbyshire clergyman.

Hires

Means Health and Purity

Two questions alone are vital in the use of any beverage—Is it pure? Is it healthful?

The ingredients used in the manufacture of Hires are personally selected by its inventor, every one possessing a known health value. Many of them could be had at less than half their cost, but they would be less than half as good. The flavor—by which you judge—would be there, but the quality—by which we judge—would not.

Hires could not be made in cleaner vessels by cleaner methods—the tanks are glass-lined, the pipes are solid block tin, the water distilled and the workmen are clean—all under the constant supervision of a practical chemist—a graduate and formerly a professor in one of our foremost technical colleges.

Hires is pre-eminent in healthfulness and purity. It aids digestion and relieves indigestion. Without a trace of false stimulants or irritants such as soap bark, etc.

But don't ask for rootbeer—ask for Hires and thus be sure to get the only genuine rootbeer.

EASTERN RECORD

HARRY WORMWOOD PITCHES 11 INNINGS WITHOUT HIT
WORCESTER, June 9.—A new eastern record for a "no-hit, no-run" game in baseball is claimed for Harry Wormwood of the Fall River team of the N. E. league, who yesterday pitched for 11 innings without allowing a hit or a run in the game with Worcester, which was won by his team, 1 to 0.

The work of Wormwood was particularly commendable, for at no time during the entire game was there a semblance of a safe hit by the Worcester men. The visiting fielders played a sharp, clean game without a single error.

Wormwood was formerly with the Worcester team.
The world's record for such a game is accredited to Pitcher Tony of the Whiteaker, Ky., team, in the Blue Grass league, who on May 10, 1909, pitched 17 innings without allowing a hit or a run.

BOTH ACQUITTED

MEN CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFAUD CITY
PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—Jas. Beach and Peter Casey, who have been on trial a week charged with conspiracy to defraud the city of Pawtucket out of $4000, were found not guilty by a jury in the superior court late yesterday.

Just before Judge Baker charged the jury, Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry P. Scott charged the defendants to prove their innocence, and that others had been connected in the alleged "stone crusher graft."

Evidence was given during the trial that Postmaster Wm. H. Barclay of Pawtucket had paid one of the witnesses a sum of money to leave the state, so she could not testify in the case. A summons was issued for Barclay to appear as a witness, but he could not be located.

MAN KILLED

CRUSHED TO DEATH IN ELEVATOR WELL
BOSTON, June 9.—Henry B. Warren, about 21 years old, was found fatally injured at the bottom of an elevator well in the Washington building, 387 Washington street, yesterday noon, with the car resting upon him. He was quickly removed and taken to the city hospital, but died while the doctors were examining him.

Warren had relieved the regular elevator man, P. A. Davis, for dinner. Davis ate his dinner on the premises, and while passing the elevator at 12.15 discovered that his relief was absent from his post. He investigated and found Warren.

The explanation of the accident, that could be offered by the young man's fellow employees was that Warren tried to pick up some papers that had been thrown into the bottom of the well and while he was under the car someone on the second floor, where the car was stopped, finding no one to run it, decided to run it down himself.

Nothing is known of Warren in the Washington building. The superintendent said he had been employed there only two weeks and had been engaged through a reference association.
The landlady at 34 Bowdoin street, where the young man lodged, could tell nothing of him, except that a Mrs. Smith formerly of Boston, but now living at 34 South Beach, Yarmouth, N. S., might know something of the young man's mother.

STOCK MARKET

CLOSED, IRREGULAR AND VERY DULL TODAY
Number of Specialties Gained a Point Or More

NEW YORK, June 9.—Opening prices of stocks were irregularly changed from last night and the volume of dealings was light. The reduction in the bank of England discount rate helped the London market and affected some of the international stocks here. International Harvester rose 3/4, and St. Paul and Utah Copper declined 1/4.

St. Paul fell 1-1/4 under yesterday's close and Amal Copper 1. Large buying orders were then executed in United States Steel and various railroad stocks and the list turned strong, prices generally rising well above last night. United States Steel Improved 1/4. Slight reactions developed resistance and the tendency was upward on very dull trading. Professionals hesitated to operate on account of divergent views of the prospect announced by railroad officials. Bonds were irregular.

Business contracted greatly and fluctuations were unimportant during the noon hour and below the best prices. Offerings of stocks were light when bids were advanced sharply. Louisville & Nashville got up 3/4, St. Paul and St. Louis and San Francisco 3/4, and U. S. Steel 1/4, and several other stocks one or more.

The market closed irregular and very dull. The rise was extended, placing U. P. and Chicago Union Traction 1/4 point or more. Very little was done on the advance. Fractional recessions accompanied a late realising movement.

RAILROAD RATES

Statement of Railway Business Association

NEW YORK, June 9.—The general executive committee of the Railway Business Association, which within its membership represents $800,000,000 of invested capital, gives employment to 1,600,000 workmen and upon which 6,000,000 people depend for support, met here yesterday, and, at the close of its session gave out a statement in chief as follows:

"The question of whether the railroads are entitled to a general advance in freight rates is now before the public. The merits of individual rates will come before the interstate commerce commission. During the period of uncertainty as to whether rates are reasonable or otherwise, there will be a disturbance of industrial conditions. It is, therefore, of the greatest importance that the way shall be cleared for the speediest possible decision by the commission. To that end the Railway Business association appeals:

"To congress, that the president of the United States having recommended a provision governing the power of the interstate commerce commission over freight rate changes, such provision be enacted forthwith to go into effect upon its passage.

"To the railways: That they facilitate the work of the commission by having their schedules so arranged that the reason therefor so clearly set forth as to require the least possible time to comprehend their scope and bearing and that the officials of the railways acquaint the shippers more fully with the reasons for freight advances.

"To the shippers: That they look upon the railways precisely as they would look upon any other concern whose solvency the management and not the government is responsible. A going concern must have an adequate revenue.

"To the public: That they frankly concede to the railways the necessity for the adequate revenue and await with patience and good nature the findings of the commission as to the reasonableness of proposed rates."

POWERFUL WEAPON

Given Inspectors to Fight The Bob Veal Traffic

BOSTON, June 9.—A powerful weapon was placed in the hands of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals yesterday, when Gov. Draper signed the bill allowing the agents of the society to visit all slaughter houses in this state for the purpose of detecting and punishing violations of the law.

Through this bill, which becomes a law in 30 days, the society believes it will be able to stamp out the "bob" veal traffic in Massachusetts, which has defied the efforts of the local health boards, in whose hands the enforcement of slaughtering laws has practically been vested.

The bill will add to our power in continuing the war against the unjust "bob veal" traffic. It is a vindication of our right in this business," declared President Francis H. Rowley yesterday. "We believe," he said, "it will enable us to stamp out the 'bob veal' industry in this state, and put an end to an inhuman traffic."

"While exposing the horse meat industry, which was sold in Boston in the face of the Boston board of health authorities, even as the 'bob veal,' several illicit places were visited by reporters.

Their owners declared they were hardly ever over as the enforcement of the laws in this business was invited, especially the ladies. Mr. Arthur J. # THE BANK TANGLE

May Cause a Revision of the Bank Law

BOSTON, June 9.—The way is being paved for a settlement of the Southbridge savings bank tangle by enacting legislation which will give the supreme judicial court of this commonwealth the right to approve of the scaling down of deposits in a bank when the affairs are in such a condition that either a receivership is imminent or a scaling down is necessary.

The bill now pending in the legislature relative to the management of savings banks which is aimed to correct the errors in the supervision of savings banks, has been amended by adding a clause which gives the supreme court authority to act for the depositors in the case mentioned. It is expected that this law will pass the legislature and that it will make it easy for the supreme court to act this fall.

The amendment giving the supreme court this authority is drafted along the lines of a somewhat similar law which has been in force in New Hampshire for some years. It is felt this law will enable the supreme court to announce its decision quickly this fall.

It will be recalled that a short time ago Judge Sheldon of the supreme bench was sitting on the question of permitting the scaling down of the deposits of the Southbridge savings bank to 85 per cent. of their face value, reserved the question for the full bench, saying he was in doubt about his power to bind the depositors by ordering a reduction. Now the amendment is drawn to meet this situation.

There is a strong feeling that the reduction of the deposits to 85 per cent. of their value is best for the depositors, especially as there is more than a probability that under the amendment which has just been added to the general savings bank bill, which is house bill 1096, any surplus shown above the scaling down figure would also be divided pro rata among the depositors. At that event, it is said from a reliable source, that 88 per cent. probably would be available and possibly 90 per cent.

As assets, the bank will realize about $35,000 from property that Cashier Hall turned over to the bank, and in addition the $20,000 on his bond has been paid and is drawing interest. There is also a suit against the town for about $10,000 on some notes which the bank officers think the town will be compelled to pay. This would give $85,000, which would represent about 3 per cent. over and above the 85 per cent. which it is requested to accept as a basis of continuing business.

The bank tangle, while most unfortunate, promises to be straightened out this fall when the supreme court passes on the question of scaling down the deposits. It is possible that new proceedings may be necessary to enable the court to decide, but that the way will then be much clearer, seems to be the general feeling among depositors and friends of the bank who are anxious to avoid a receivership.

THE DEACON WON

66 Year Old Man First in Walking Match

WORCESTER, June 9.—Deacon Charles N. Prouty, the well-known churchman and wealthy shoe manufacturer of Spencer, scored a victory in the walking match against B. Eugene Browning, the Spencer newsdealer, in their contest from Spencer to Worcester, a distance of 11 miles, yesterday afternoon.

The deacon's time was 2h. 28m., and he finished as fresh as a colt. Mr. Browning's time was 2h. 35m.

The race, owing to the standing of both men, had been the talk of Worcester county for weeks and speculation ran high as to the outcome.

Fears were entertained by the deacon's friends that he must have experienced trouble along the route, when they saw him coming plodding along the highway with skin abrasions on his lip and nose, from which blood trickled, but all fears were set at rest when the deacon explained that the accident happened during the progress of the race in Cherry Valley. In his efforts to avoid colliding with a busy carriage the deacon, who is very nearsighted, ran into a telegraph pole.

At the conclusion of the race the deacon joked with his rival about the contest, and at the same time served warning on the ambitious amateur pedestrians of Worcester county that he had a lot up his sleeve which he could have used if he had been pressed.

All along the line of the highway between Spencer and Worcester people turned out by the hundreds to encourage the two men on their journey.

The race was a waggerless one, for the deacon could not be induced to bet even a toothpick on the result. The match was the result of some pleasant badinage on the part of Gene Browning last winter, in which he jokingly referred to the cane the deacon was carrying.

"Getting old, deacon," remarked Gene, as Mr. Prouty entered the former's place of business in Spencer one day.

"Not so old, Gene, but that I can walk faster than you can," quickly replied the deacon. Day after day the good-natured chaffing continued. Meanwhile both were quietly fitting themselves for the contest by regular practice spins.

While the principals were getting ready their friends were laying ice cream and candy wagers on the result, in the event of a contest. A short time ago Mr. Browning set all doubt at rest by declaring he was ready for the match and the deacon was prompt in agreeing as to a date.

The deacon is 66 years old, about 5ft. 10 in. in height. He weighs 150 pounds. Gene Browning is six years younger and weighs 160 pounds.

A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring deacons, Mr. Pauly and Mr. Durrell. Closing prayer was offered by Mr. John Pauly, and the meeting adjourned.

JUDGE BROWN

Talked on Boy City Movement

Judge Willis Brown, founder and first judge of the juvenile court of Salt Lake City, Utah, and founder of the "Boy City" organization, spoke last night in the vestry of the First Congregational church, in the interest of the Boy City movement. Judge Brown believes that the organization of a Boy City as an adjunct to the juvenile court, acts as a preventive of crime among boys, thus lessening the business of the court.

He said that he tried for 15 years to discover a plan for solving the boy problem, and wound up by finding that there is no boy problem, but just boys—"kids, that is all." A boy, he said, will be absolutely square, with the law of the "gang." At certain stages in a boy's life, "the gang" is stronger than any home influence. Out in Utah, it is claimed that the state absolutely owns every boy within its limits, and so it is possible to do preventive work. The best way to work in a juvenile court is to organize a

"gang"—a boy city. There is one in Salt Lake City, with a city hall equipped by one of the rich men of the city. The city is organized into wards, and the boys make their own laws and elect their own mayor and board of aldermen and other city officers. The boys govern themselves absolutely, the only rule of the Boy City being that of "a square deal." The boy, says Judge Brown, who does not play square is either sick, or else he is a sneak. If he is not sick, and has not "bubbles," then he should be sent to the juvenile court.

Judge Brown says that the boy of a good home, who goes wrong, is harder to redeem than the boy of a bad home.

It does him no good to put him on probation, because he has been on probation all his life. "If my boy, with his bringing up, commits a theft, he belongs to the reform school tomorrow. But if 'Timmy,' the toughest boy in New Hampshire, should commit a theft, it would not be so very bad." On this principle, Judge Brown would not send the boy from a bad home to the reform school, until he has given him a chance,—until he can judge him under normal conditions. Put him in a good environment, let him have the things in life that the boys in good homes have, and see if he will then "play fair." If he will not, send him away.

Judge Brown was accompanied by

Frederick E. Smith, director of "Dover Boyville," Dover, N. H., and adult leader of the Boy City movement for New England. Mr. Smith is anxious to cooperate with managers of boys' clubs or other organizations in the interest of the movement.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was 16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Plotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

We shall soon hear of our growth during the past ten years as indicated by the recent census. Let us hope there will be no miscount this time.

The speculators are again pushing up the price of cotton to figures that make its purchase for manufacturing purposes at the present time a doubtful investment.

With the equipment of public playgrounds in this city it is important that the effective use of apparatus be explained and illustrated to the children. The program presented at the state Normal school Tuesday afternoon served that purpose admirably. There is an art in play as in everything else, and the movement to instruct the children in making the most of the apparatus provided is a good one.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S DIPLOMACY

President Taft has scored a diplomatic triumph in securing an agreement on the part of the western railroads to hold up the proposed increase in freight rates so as to stop tedious legislation and let the whole matter be settled by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There is a bill before congress, the intent of which is to give the Interstate Commerce Commission power to suspend any freight rate on interstate traffic, that is supposed to be excessive, pending an investigation and final decree by the commission fixing an equitable rate.

It would be futile to enter litigation at the present time as it would not be more than well started before the Interstate Commerce Commission shall enter upon its new function of investigating and fixing rates. There is no doubt now of the passage of the bill by congress and it was with this understanding that President Taft induced the railroad presidents to withdraw the advance in rates that had been announced to take effect June 1.

THE ELECTION OF MR. MAYBERRY.

In discussing or defending the election of Mr. Mayberry as principal assessor our non-partisan neighbor, the Courier-Citizen, as usual hastens to place the responsibility which belongs to the aldermen alone on the shoulders of our democratic mayor for having as the Courier-Citizen alleges unjustly removed Mr. Mayberry from the superintendency of the city farm. The Courier-Citizen should have stated that the trouble began when a republican mayor for what appeared to be political reasons alone brought about the removal of Superintendent Courtney with the result that Mr. Mayberry was chosen to succeed him. An effort has been made to make a martyr out of Mr. Mayberry on account of his removal, but the real martyr in the case if any, is Mr. Martin J. Courtney, one of the ablest and most successful superintendents who ever served in that position. It must, we believe, be conceded that the removal of Superintendent Courtney was a serious mistake.

We do not believe, however, that the interests of the city or of the department suffered when Martin F. Conley was made superintendent, despite the republican protests against the change. So much for the results of changes, political and otherwise, at the city farm. When a non-partisan paper as our neighbor claims to be, undertakes to give reasons for political changes it should give the true reasons without bias, as it is inconsistent with genuine non-partisanship to paint the situation in favor of either political party.

THE EARTHQUAKE VISITATION IN ITALY

Again has the sympathy of the world gone out to the people of Italy who have been subjected to the terrors of a great earthquake shock, causing many deaths and much destruction of property. The king and queen of Italy, as in the case of the Messina disaster, have hurried to the scene to render all possible assistance to the afflicted.

The king and queen, it must be said, are models in their simplicity of life and intense devotion to their subjects. Whenever anything in the line of calamity occurs in any part of the kingdom, the king goes to the scene and the queen insists upon accompanying him, showing a fearlessness and an intensity of sympathy with suffering that is greatly to her credit. When the king and queen go to Milan they do not bring their retinue of servants with them but occupy only a few rooms of the great palace and order their meals from a restaurant. They are probably the only rulers of Europe who adopt such a simple and democratic mode of living. This is doubtless one of the reasons why the people are so much devoted to them.

But as to the earthquake, it appears to have affected a large portion of central Italy and covered much of the territory devastated by the great earthquake of 1851 by which 800 lives were lost. This shock is evidently of volcanic origin being in the immediate vicinity of an extinct volcano and not far from Mt. Vesuvius. The scientists can predict eclipses of the heavenly bodies and trace the course of the comets through infinite space, but they have not the slightest theory by which they might predict earthquakes. The time may come, however, when they may be able to discern signs of coming earthquakes if it cannot be that they are entirely unheralded. With the well known molecular, vibratory, magnetic and electric qualities of the matter of which the body of the earth is composed, it is strange that the scientists are yet unable to devise any method of forecasting subterranean disturbances. Astronomers are giving a great deal of attention to the planet Mars, the comets and the other heavenly bodies. Why should it not be a good idea to learn a little more about our own planet and to study these seismic disturbances that occur so frequently and of which there is not the slightest warning until the crash comes?

Is it not high time that some of the millionaires established a foundation for the study, prediction and possible prevention of earthquakes and volcanic action?

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Adeline Genies, the Danish dancer, will be married in London June 11. Frank S. N. Isti, a lawyer and legal adviser to many members of the nobility.

Thomas Morley, the Pittsburg man who is the doubt of President Taft, is going into vaudeville in the fall and will be seen in a monolog. He will sit at an office desk and do a bit of government business for the amusement of the public.

One of the events of Convocation Day, June 14, at the University of Chicago, will be the unveiling of a bronze memorial dedicated to Alice Freeman Palmer, whose career President Eliot declared "was unmatched by that of any other American woman."

The East-side house, New York, founded by Everett P. Wheeler, and in which members of the Church club of New York have long taken warm interest, reports the offer by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Howland of a farm of 22 acres, fronting on the Hudson river just below Matteawan, for summer work in connection with the house. It is hoped to raise an endowment of at least $100,000 for its maintenance.

Edison's ideas of sleep seem to suit him. He believes six hours is the maximum amount of sleep anyone needs in the 24. He thinks he is just as well with three or four hours, that sleep is a habit. He says that neither the brain nor the body requires prolonged sleep. The long hours of sleep owes its origin to the primitive time when man went to bed at sundown, with the other animals, because there was no artificial light, and they could do nothing else. Rest is essential.

NEW TREATMENT FOR THE HAIR

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and disease germs which settle in the hair and scalp. The natural oil on your head holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff and scalp troubles. The pores in your scalp are stopped up, the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. Cleanliness is the one and only thing needed. You don't need tonics, renewers, invigorators or hair growers. You need Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. It is made of Refined Soap, Cocoon Cocoon Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp. Tubes 25c, jars 50c.

tained by change of employment, and he would have people constantly busy for not less than 13 out of the 24 hours. He suggests that anyone can accomplish this by tapering off gradually until the longer hours are reached. He reads well, and makes one ambitious while under the spell of Mr. Edison's eloquence on the subject.

A court-martial sitting at Glogau in Prussian Silesia has sentenced a non-commissioned officer, Franz Libowska, to two years' imprisonment and degradation for perpetrating 200 acts of cruelty on members of the fifth battalion of sappers. The evidence showed that Libowska hit a recruit's head 50 times in succession and then struck his victim in the face with the flat of his sword. Libowska also maltreated the same recruit by kicking his head with heavy knee boots.

Another recruit received thirty blows in succession on the head and face, and Libowska dug his nails so deeply into the unhappy soldier's cheek that blood was drawn. Many recruits and young soldiers had to submit to having their hair pulled out of their heads.

One of Libowska's habits was to throw bags of cartridges, swords and similar missiles at the men's heads while they were cleaning the barracks. He once compelled his men when drilling to hit one another on the head while he looked on and enjoyed the combat. After a hard day's drill he would compel the men to get up at night and sing to him. Those whose voices or songs displeased him were beaten and systematically ill-treated on the following morning.

In many cases Libowska forced his men to lend him money, which he never repaid.

MAMMOTH CIRCUS

Barnum and Bailey To-morrow--Big Parade

Boys who can still hark back to the old-time stunt with the water pail, and girls who in other days clung to their mothers in awe while bespangled performers flitted with death, can romp to the show grounds tomorrow and see the latest and best development of the circus idea as exemplified by the Barnum and Bailey circus. The "boys" can take along their sons and the "girls" their daughters, and for three, happy, howling hours travel back over the road to yesterday and live again the hours when all was "peaches and cream." Today the circus is exhibiting in Manchester and long before the average mortal turns in bed tomorrow morning for his beauty sleep it is expected that the first sections of the show train will have pulled into town. Eighty-five cars make up the four long trains, the first section, called the "flying squadron," conveying the commissary department and the larger portion of the working force. The second and third sections bring the circus zoo, tentage, etc., while the last train brings the performers, ring stock, and "red" animals, including 30 elephants, 24 camels and more than the usual quota of zebras, llamas, alpacas, sacred cattle, etc.

It's sort of like this: four trains of about twenty cars each coming chugging in, each pulled by a double header. Before they come to a full stop about 500 men jump off the platforms and out of windows, and start running in different directions like football teams after the kickoff. The trains are unloaded in a jiffy and the start made for the circus lot. Three minutes after getting there four or five hundred horses and a score of elephants are at work pulling and pushing huge wagons, stakes are being driven, canvases erected, a half hundred cooks are erecting a 75-man restaurant, and the work is well underway.

For about three hours there is to the unskilled eye such a chaos of confusion as was never seen, when suddenly there comes a lull and the circus is ready for its parade and performances. This season this circus requires more real estate than ever to properly erect its city of canvas, some 20 tents, big and little, being used.

There'll be a parade tomorrow morning traversing the usual route from the Fair grounds.

This cavalcade will be an interesting affair and exhibit, as perhaps nothing else could, the immense resources of the show. It will be an immense moving horse fair with over 600 horses on view. There will be a generous display of open cages and a long string of elephants and camels. The leading band chariot will have a hitch of 21 Norman horses. Ten and twelve horse hitches will be plentiful. Men and women riders, finely horsed and costumed, will lend a cheerful note of color to the long column. Gorgeous floats, typical of many countries, will give it a luxurious tone, and five bands including a mounted band will flood the streets with martial melody. All told, "some parade" is promised.

But it is under the "big top" that the chief glories of circus day will be unfolded, performances being given at 2 and 8 o'clock, doors being opened at 1 and 7 o'clock. The zoo will claim first attention, for it is more than ever attractive and high class. Baby Dumbo, the infant giraffe, and Chimmie Fadden, erudite chimpanzee star here, but divide honors with the largest and most diversified animal display ever seen under canvas, including a whole family of giraffes, a kindergarten of infant lions, tigers and kangaroos, 30 elephants, 24 camels, fine specimens of the rhinoceros and hippopotamus, together with all the more familiar types.

Promptly at 2 and 8 o'clock the ringmaster's whistle will blow and the fun be on in the big tent. For over two hours there won't be a dull moment. The show starts with a spectacular tournament typical of early Egyptian history with a wealth of beautiful wardrobe, fine horses and gorgeous trappings. Then comes the circus proper. Most of the acts are new to America, and from the great European circuses. Jupiter, the balloon horse, will cause many a nervous tremor while Charles the First, educated chimpanzee, will cause the student to turn the pages of his Darwin. Berzac's ponies and mules are a scream, and the riding and juggling seals provide an amazing performance. La Belle Victoria upon the high wire proved a sensation during the New York engagement, as did the acrobatic numbers presented by a half score troupes. Of clowns there are some fifty disciples of Billikin. The circus menu is topped off with the performances of Desperado, a daring young Frenchman, who makes a headlong dive from the top of the tent alighting upon his chest while the band plays a funeral dirge, and performers and public alike hold their bated breath. He is the despair of all insurance actuaries, and pulls down a weekly salary that would make even an insurgent ball player sit up and take notice. All in all, a circus is promised that would make the shade of even Phineas T. Barnum, himself, turn green with envy were he to see it. All day tomorrow tickets may be bought at Hall & Lyon's drug store, the downtown ticket office.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Guest of Honor at Two Functions.

LONDON, June 8.—Dorchester house, the residence of Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, was the scene yesterday of two functions in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt—a reception in the afternoon to the members of the Pilgrim and American societies and a farewell dinner last night. Both were quiet affairs on account of the court mourning and the fact also that Mr. and Mrs. Reid are in mourning for the late Ogden Mills.

Several hundred persons attended the dinner, including most of the prominent members of the American colony. Ambassador and Mrs. Reid and ex-President and Mrs. Roosevelt received at the head of the grand staircase. The guests included the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, the Duke of Portland, Lord Curzon of Kedleston; the Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, American bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church in the Philippine Islands, and Lord Alverstone.

At the luncheon at Colonel Arthur Lees, Mr. Roosevelt met the Earl of Selborne, high commissioner in South Africa and governor of the Transvaal; David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer; Sir Horace Plunkett of the department of agriculture in Ireland; Sir Alfred Pease, and W. W. Jacobs, the writer, who was invited to attend on Mr. Roosevelt's special request.

Mr. Roosevelt will spend his last day in England resting in the country. Hundreds of letters, commenting on his Gladden speech, are pouring in. The great majority of them are laudatory, but some are abusive.

PEARY SUED

NOTICE WAS SERVED ON HIM IN BERLIN

BERLIN, June 8.—Immediately after his arrival here last evening, Commander Peary was served with a notice of a suit that had been instituted against him in the local courts.

After conferring with Ambassador Hill regarding the matter, Commander Peary said that he left it in the ambassador's hands. He declared also that he washed his hands of the whole affair. He stated positively that the suit had not been brought by Dr. Cook nor on the latter's behalf and that Cook was in no way concerned in the litigation.

Commander Peary declined to say who was bringing the suit, but it was rumored that it is Rudolph Francke, Cook's assistant, who is now in Germany.

ORDERS SALOONS CLOSED

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—When Mayor Hiram C. Gill learned yesterday of President Taft's refusal to remove the negro soldiers from Fort Lawton, he had sixty emergency policemen placed in the Fort Lawton district. The mayor also ordered the closing of restaurants and saloons near the fort.

Private Nathaniel Bedesee confessed to the police that he was drunk when he attacked Mrs. Bedding and that no other soldier should share the blame.

GIRL IS EXCLUDED

Cannot Attend White School Because Relative Married Octoroon

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Justice Wright of the supreme court of the District of Columbia has decided that Isabel I. Wall bears no ocular evidence of being a negro, but he refuses to order the board of education to admit her to the white schools on the ground that her father was a negro. In his decision, Justice Wright said: "There was to be observed of the child no physical characteristics which afforded ocular evidence suggestive of aught but Caucasian. Her father, while of light complexion, presents to the eye racial characteristics which identify him of negro blood; her mother, formerly wife to a Mongolian, is taken to be white.

"Persons of whatever complexion who bear the negro blood in whatever degree and who abide in the racial status of the negro are 'colored' in the common estimation of the people. The child at bar has acquired no racial status personal to itself; its status of necessity is that of its father. This, and that of his paternal ancestors has, as is conceded, been always that of the negro.

It is to be concluded that the child is of negro blood, one-eighth to one-sixteenth; that her racial status is that of the negro."

The case of Isabel Wall has been agitating the people of Brookland, a suburb of Washington, for many months.

The trouble started within the congregation of the Brookland Baptist church. One day Mrs. Wall received a visit from several members of the church. As a result Mrs. Wall tendered her resignation from the congregation. Soon after the matter was brought to the attention of the teachers at the public school. The principal issued an order excluding the little girl.

The matter was brought to the attention of the school board by Mr. Wall and the board sustained the principal. Then Wall appealed to the courts.

"The contention of the child's father," said John Rideout, who represented the Walls at the school board hearing, "is that his daughter is white and not 'colored' under the law. We contend that color is color."

"From the best information obtainable it appears that the child's great-grandfather on her father's side married an octoroon. The rest of her progenitors on that side and all her

WOMAN BURNED

Her Injuries May Prove Fatal

PROVIDENCE, June 9.—When Miss Margaret Wood lighted a match at one end of the kitchen today at 799 West master street, the room was so filled with the fumes from the tub of gasoline in which Miss Anna Mosler, aged 22, was washing some clothes that although the tub was at an opposite end of the room the gasoline was lighted and Miss Mosler was probably fatally burned. Police Captain Lawrence in trying to smother the blazing clothing of the girl threw around her a skirt which had been soaked in the gasoline and was himself severely burned about the hands and face.

CHILD AILMENTS

Three Fourths Caused by Worms.

Thousands of children are afflicted by worms and their parents do not know it.

It is a pity that youngsters are allowed to sicken and die from supposed other causes when the whole thing starts with worms, a trouble which could have been cured with a few cents worth of worm medicine.

There are more than fifty different worms that can get into the human stomach and bowels and destroy health.

When your child appears sick it is well to remember the saying "think of worms first"—because that's the most usual cause of all the various ill feelings and actions of children. Look for these signs: peevishness, fretfulness, bad breath, constant thirst, greed or poor appetite, starting, growling, choking, reining teeth or swallowing in sleep, bed-wetting, vomiting, sunken eyes or pale lips. These are only a few of the symptoms.

Finding any of these or their like present, act at once by giving the needed worm medicine.

Fessenden's Worm Expeller is recommended in such cases because it is cheap and most effective. Only costs a quarter at drug stores. Nothing else like it. Remember the exact name, Fessenden's Worm Expeller, and start the treatment of the child at once. Directions are on the package.

TO RECLAIM FARM LANDS

KINGSTON, R. I., June 9.—The newly organized movement to secure the reclamation of the farm lands of the state for farm purposes was characterized as the beginning of a new era in the agricultural industry of Rhode Island by Gov. Aram J. Potter at the commencement exercises of the Rhode Island state college here today. Former Gov. George D. Utter was also a speaker. Seventeen graduates received the much-coveted sheepskins and nine of those to secure degrees were from this state, seven from Massachusetts, and New Hampshire was represented by one.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY

BED WAS BURNED

INCREASE IN FARES

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Increases in communication passenger fares made recently by the railway lines operating out of New York city will not be affected by the verbal agreement reached by the railway officials and President Taft. This announcement was made today at the offices of the interstate commerce commission.

In the judgment of the officers of the commission the rates discussed by the president and the railroad officials were freight rates. Those are the only rates that generally have been increased. Advances have been made in the communication rates out of New York city by all of the lines doing a communication business. They will become effective on or about July 1.

It is held that the commission is bound to recognize the tariffs making the increases as they were filed in the regular way provided by the statute, the tariffs being entirely within their rights in making the increases. Whether the inter-state communication rates fixed by the new tariff are reasonable or not is a question for future determination.

GRADUATE HUNTING—THIS SEASON'S FAVORITE SPORT

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

THIS is the open season for graduates. Not a single state in the Union has passed game laws for the protection of this harmless, defenseless creature of the hall and campus, and the federal policy of conservation of our natural resources knows not him (nor her) as an object of its protecting care. Therefore any ambitious statesman or politician with a message to deliver is at liberty to invade the habitat of the graduate and hunt him down with merciless manuscript in hand. From every nook and corner of the land the shrieks of the helpless soon-to-be alumnus or alumna are rising to the skies. Let us pause to shed a tear of sympathy for the poor graduate.

Figures fall us to tell how many presidents, senators, governors, representatives, mayors and keepers of town pounds have been busily furnishing up their rhetoric and the memories of their own college days to derive therefrom the "few words of advice" that are "not amiss on occasions like the present." Probably there is no man of high station, from the president down, who has not been approached with invitations to make himself heard at the commencement exercises of this or that university, college, academy or school. Probably they have all accepted, save the senator who last year told a graduating class that what its members would need in future years would be the quality of the name of which he had noted on the swinging doors as he entered the hall.

It was "Push" he meant, but on the inside of the door was inscribed "Pull." The audience was unkind enough to laugh out loud. And the senator is not addressing any graduating classes this year.

The President's Engagements.

First and foremost among the men who go graduate hunting each year is the president of the United States. We are speaking now of the chief executive generically, not specifically.

Whoever the occupant of the White House may be for the time being, he is deluged each spring with invitations to flit about the country and deliver broadsides of wisdom at those who have been absorbing that sort of matter for at least four years. It is considered "the thing" at the big universities to ask the president to speak at commencement time. More often than not he accepts two or three of the invitations and turns the others down as politely as possible.

This year President Taft will be the chief figure at three college commencements at least. Yale, his alma mater, will be sure to have him on commencement day, June 22, since his eldest son, Robert A. Taft, will then receive his degree and the honors which he has earned by a standing in the university high above the average student. The acceptance of the invitation to attend the commencement at Bryn Mawr, where Miss Helen Taft is a student, made another engagement for the president, and Marietta College, in his own state of Ohio, claimed him successfully to help in the celebration of its seventy-fifth anniversary.

There are no fashions in commencements, speaking generally. They are all amplifications of the old idea of sending forth into the world formally the young man or woman equipped as fully as possible by his or her particular alma mater with the knowledge and training that will help in the attainment of an honorable place in the world. But particular usages differ. As a rule, the older and bigger the university or college the more formal there are about its commencement. At some institutions, such as the various state universities, of which the governors of the state usually are officials, the affairs are marked with great pomp and stateliness. At others they are the occasions of happy assemblages of former collegians in class reunions and other forms of festivity. At some colleges stress is laid upon the serious side of the commencement as formalnating the cloistered career of their highest classes of young men or women, or both. At others the joyous sides of the affairs receive the greatest amount of attention. Of course at all colleges there is a mingling of the two phases of the graduation exercises.

Happy Days at Women's Colleges.

If you are a serious sort of person, with a liking for the austere side of life, by all means attend the commencement of a men's college and regale yourself with the solemn adjurations delivered thereat. But if you prefer the lightsome side of existence pull all the wires you can for a "big" to the exercises at a women's seminary. Not that the commencements at the women's colleges are lacking in seriousness—oh, dear me, no! If you look for them you can easily discern the underlying solemnities of the affair. But there are a gayety and a happiness about most of the graduates of the women's colleges that are mainly absent from the serious eyed, bespectacled seniors who present themselves for degrees at the brother institutions. For instance, who can imagine a class of Yale or Harvard or Pennsylvania seniors wreathing themselves in the daisy chain that plays so prominent a part at Vassar each year? It is simply unthinkable.

This year some of the women's colleges have taken steps calculated to detract somewhat from the picturesque of their commencements. A ban was placed on some of the pretty accessories of dress of the girl graduates. The reason given was the expense incurred by some of the students and the inability of others to meet such obligations. At Vassar, for example, the senior class voted to do away with the big bouquets that heretofore have been carried by the graduates and to substitute therefor simple flowers. At Smith college, in order to make graduation as inexpensive as possible, the senior class agreed to do away with the wearing of hats on baccalaureate Sunday, June 13. Heretofore this had been the great day of the year for millions of display by the girls and has always been a sore trial to the less wealthy seniors. But the most radical changes are those instituted at Radcliffe college this year. The senior class graduation committee "put the lid" on the greater part of the things that the feminine heart has held dear. Among the things that fell within the prohibited category were gewgaws of all sorts, and the dress prescribed for the great occasion was as follows:

Some of the Things Prescribed.
Long sleeved white shirt waist (as plain as possible).
Linen collar (plain or embroidered).
Ties will be provided.
Plain white skirt—preferably linen—must be fairly heavy and not ruffled. There should be neither embroidery nor a row of buttons on the front of the skirt.
Skirt three inches from the ground.
Gown two inches above the skirt.
Black hatpins. Absolutely no jewelry. No bows in the hair. Please be careful of the hang of the skirt and gown.
Black shoes and stockings (Oxford ties and plain black stockings). The feet must look dainty and trim.

No fancy combs and barrettes.
The order did not meet by any means with unanimous approval, either among the student body of Radcliffe or its friends. One metropolitan commentator said:

"Certainly there is need to limit expenditures for graduation gowns lest beauty be eclipsed by vulgar because incongruous magnificence and lest the girls with poorer parents suffer the agonies of humiliation because of inability to attain a decorative standard set unduly high. Yet most families who can send their girls to college at all are not only able but glad to incur a reasonable amount of extra expense for commencement day gowns, and they should not be deprived of the privilege of doing so."

"Breaking Up" Day at Eton.

Few of our American colleges and universities are old enough to possess distinctive, historical commencement day features, although some have made commendable efforts in that direction, such as the planting of class trees, ties, etc. To get the real historical, antique flavor one must go to England, with its two great hoary universities and its ancient "public schools"—Eton, Harrow, Westminster, etc. (which are not at all public or common schools in the American acceptance of the terms).

At Eton, for example, there exists the curious custom of collecting from the boys the old high hats, or "toppers," which they have worn in the term. These hats, with other outworn goods, are collected by local clothiers, batters and others on "breaking up" day at Eton. Another curious custom at the school, which is nearing the close of its fifth century of existence, is the collection of old lesson books for the book "pound." If these books are not claimed by their owners before a certain time after the commencement of the following term they are sold to other boys.

Aim at Converting the Whole World

NOTHING less than the evangelization of the whole world, the carrying of the gospel wherever man himself is able to go, is the aim of the world's missionary conference summoned to meet in Edinburgh, Scotland, June 14 to 23. As its name implies, it is an international and interdenominational convention of missionaries and believers in their work that has been planned. To it have been appointed many men of many tongues and colors and

The sessions of the conference in Edinburgh will be held in assembly hall and synod hall, two of the most notable buildings of the ancient and picturesque capital of Scotland. The former edifice is entered through the beautiful quadrangle of the New college. It contains seats for more than 2,000 persons and is especially adapted to the purposes of public speaking, a speaker in any part of the house being in full view of the entire assembly. The acoustics of the building are admir-

No doubt some of the delegates from denominations opposed to theatrical representations will comment on the transformation of a theater into a hall devoted, for the time being at least, to the advancement of the cause of the gospel.

Trips into "Scott's country" and to other points of interest have been planned for the foreign delegates. An object of great interest to them will be the old house occupied for a number of years by John Knox, the famous Scottish reformer and master spirit of the reformation in his native country. Mr. McFee is one of the delegates at the leaders of other denominations to discuss the evangelization of the world.

It is expressly stated by the heads of the conference that, while united action in regard to spreading Christianity is desired and sought, "the conference does not propose to deal in any way with the grounds of division among Christians, nor is it constituted in a way that would make it competent to do so." It is asserted, however, that "in many indirect ways it may promote radical co-operation, so far as this is possible, without the surrender of conscientious principle and may prepare the way for a larger and more comprehensive unity and especially that some means may be found after the conference is over of maintaining and strengthening the intimate relations into which missionary societies throughout the world have been brought through the conference and of continuing the attempt to view the whole fact of Christianity in relation to the whole fact of the non-Christian world."

In writing of the conference in a characteristic article, entitled "A Call to Consider Seriously Our Divisions," Admiral Mahan says: "Christendom at present is engaged in and purposes still further to press a holy war, a war of offense, of spiritual conquest, for the extension of the kingdom of God, and Christendom at the same time is afflicted at home by a state of division which renders its action at best that of a single united nation, concentrated in force as in object. The onset consequently is not in mass, but, as it were, in disconnected assaults aiming at the same results, but lacking in that reasoned combination of effort by which many attacks become essentially one. This is the wide difference between the blow of a single great projectile and of several smaller of the same aggregate weight—the difference between a shock and an earthquake. The smaller are likely to lack simultaneousness of impact, and in concentrated momentum they are certain to fall short of the larger."

Some of the ablest men of Great Britain are interested in the conference as officials and are working for its success. The president is the Right Hon. Lord Balfour of Burleigh, the well known statesman who has held high offices in various British governments. The vice presidents are Lord Roay, the famous educator and statesman; Sir A. H. L. Fraser, the Indian administrator who recently visited America, and Sir John H. Kennaway, member of parliament.

English Folk Songs in America.

According to a correspondent of the London Times, there is still a field, fertile in promise, for the discoverer of English folk songs in some of the "wild places" of North America. "From Fort St. Michael down to San Francisco, the Dan and Deersheba of the Pacific slope," this writer claims to have found. "The popular music hall ditty, whether the product of London or New York or Chicago, has succeeded in reaching those remote ambuscades of western life," but its popularity has been ephemeral.

First Among Roosevelt Greeters

Will Be the Young Woman Who Will Become Mrs. T. Roosevelt, Jr., on June 20.

THERE will be delegations of distinguished men to greet Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, returning laureled from Europe, when he reaches America on June 18. There will be reception committees and welcoming steamers and brass bands and parades. He will be delighted to see and hear them, and he will say so, but his warmest words will not be for them—not at all; not by a great deal. They are reserved for Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander, the young woman who, two days after the colonel's arrival, will become the bride of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., his eldest son.

On the other hand, the returning traveler will have no warmer admirer in line than his future daughter-in-law. She is on record as saying that she will go way down New York bay to meet him with the foremost of the reception committees. "You see," she said, "I don't know Colonel Roosevelt very well, and I want him to like me. I know I shall like him as well as I do the rest of the family. Ethel has been one of my most intimate friends for a long time, and I am very fond of her mother, whom I came to know quite well when I was their guest at Oyster Bay in November, after their return from Europe."

That phrase, "I want him to like me," throws a delightful side light on the disposition of Miss Alexander. She is a most charming, ingenious, natural young society girl, "nice" in every sense of the word. And, although she professes to be anxious to have Colonel Roosevelt "like" her, there is no doubt that he already has more than a liking for her. Indeed, when the announcement of the engagement of his son to Miss Alexander was cabled to him last February he gave utterance to a loud and most emphatic "Bully!" and a cablegram of congratulation to both of the young persons followed very quickly.

Miss Alexander and the younger Roosevelt have been acquainted for about two years. They met first at a house party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge in Simsbury, Conn. It was not a case of love at first sight, according to Miss Alexander, for she did not meet her future fiancé for some time. They renewed their acquaintance at President Taft's inaugural ball, and since that time they have been devoted to each other.

The date of the Alexander-Roosevelt wedding was fixed for June 20 after it was ascertained that Colonel Roosevelt would be able to fulfill his European engagements in time to permit of his return by that time. The ceremony will be performed in the afternoon in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, New York. The reception, which is to be given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander, will take place in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, 4 West Fifty-eighth street. It is to be a very large affair, as the Alexanders are popular in New York society and have a large circle of friends. Naturally also the presence of Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt will necessitate provision for an assemblage of their friends.

Miss Ethel Roosevelt, sister of the bridegroom, will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding. The maid of honor will be Miss Elizabeth Bertron, chum of Miss Alexander.

While an announcement of the plans of the future Mr. and Mrs. Theodore hunting trips, his exploits on the football field and elsewhere, have been followed with close interest by the public from the time of the older Roosevelt's election to the governorship of New York state. He will be twenty-three years old on Sept. 18. He is the oldest of the four sons of Colonel Roosevelt and the present Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt Longworth being his half sister.

Wherever the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Jr., may be its mistress will bring to it a full equipment of social graces and a complete knowledge of social requirements. Her family has been prominent in New York society for a long time and has extensive connections among the people creeds, but all animated with the purpose of Christianizing the heathen and the unbeliever.

In its scope and size the world's missionary conference is no ordinary convention. Other assemblages of the sort have held the world's attention and have spread their influence to remote corners of the globe, but never before has there been one of such magnitude. For it preparations have been making for more than a year. An idea of its importance may be gained from the fact that 1,000 delegates, representing all denominations of the Christian church engaged in foreign missionary work, are expected to attend and take part in the deliberations. There will be from the United States about 400 delegates, among the most distinguished of whom are William Jennings Bryan, Silas McFee, editor of the Churchman, New York, and Rear Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, U. S. N., retired, the famous authority on naval affairs.

And it is said to be one of the finest halls for debating in the world. The synod hall, where parallel sessions of the conference will be held to discuss various phases of missionary work, was erected many years ago as a theater for the production of Shakespearean and other high class plays. The scheme was a financial failure, and the building was purchased by the United Presbyterian church and reconstructed as a central hall for church meetings. It is now the property of the town council of Edinburgh. This hall also accommodates more than 2,000, and its acoustics are very fine, large to the conference from the United States and vice chairman of the commission on co-operation and unity. For several weeks he toured the continent of Europe, interesting high church authorities of various denominations in the conference and securing their promises to send delegates. Among the church dignitaries who will take a prominent part in the deliberations will be the archbishops of Canterbury and York, the heads of the Established church in England. It is believed that the conference will afford the first instance in centuries of the meeting of the heads of the English church with

Roosevelt, Jr., has been made, it is understood that after the honeymoon the bridegroom will return to the carpet manufacturing business, in which he has been engaged since the fall of 1908, at Thompsonville, Conn. It is believed, however, that he will not return to Thompsonville, but will become manager of a western branch of his house. He has been very assiduous in his attention to business and has devoted to it a great deal of the earnestness which he shares with his distinguished father. The resemblance between the two has been the subject of much comment ever since Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was old enough to attract public notice. His career at Groton school and at Harvard, where he was graduated two years ago, his whose names are found in the social register. Her mother was Miss Grace Green, one of the daughters of Albert W. Green, a prominent merchant of New York, who died about ten years ago. Miss Alexander's father was connected with one of the American legations in Europe as counselor. Miss Alexander is twenty-one years old and is pretty, girlish and vivacious. She made her debut in society in 1907 and has been very popular among the younger set in New York and elsewhere. She is musical in her tastes, plays the violin with skill and has been connected with the Symphony club of New York, an organization devoted to interpreting the works of the great masters of music.

THE HEALTH DEPT. KILLED HIMSELF

Will Have More Work to Do

The board of health, city clerk, doctors and others are up against it on a revised United States certificate of death. The certificate calls for a deal of information and is called the "standard certificate of death." All deaths registered in the several states and cities constituting the registration are supposed to be collected upon the blanks, in question. It is claimed that the bureau of the census will then be able to co-operate much more efficiently with state and city registration officials in the dissemination of instructions to physicians and others for the proper reporting of deaths. The certificate is fearfully and wonderfully made and it looks like more work for the doctors.

Man a Suicide at Wife's Grave

LEOMINSTER, June 9.—Going to the grave of his wife who died two years ago today, Charles J. Wallis, 54 years of age, a prominent Odd Fellow, shot himself dead with a revolver today. Wallis' body was found lying across the grave by a person passing through the cemetery. It is believed that poor health caused Wallis to become despondent.

KING AND QUEEN

RETURN FROM SCENE OF RECENT EARTHQUAKE

ROME, June 9.—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena returned today from the province of Avellino where they visited the scene of the recent earthquake. Before leaving Calitri the king issued instructions that every possible thing be done for the relief of the sufferers there.

EX-SEN. HOW DEAD

HAVERHILL, June 9.—Ex-Senator Carlton F. How, for many years a prominent figure in state and county politics, died last night at the Danvers insane hospital after an illness of about three months.

Carlton F. How was born in Haverhill in 1855 and was the son of ex-Mayor Moses How. He received his early education in the local schools, graduating from the high school in the class of 1880, then entering Harvard, from which he graduated in 1884. He served his native city for several years as a member of the school board, later being elected to the legislature.

EXPLORER PEARY

BERLIN, June 9.—Commander Robert E. Peary, who was served here yesterday with papers in a suit brought by Rudolph Franke, left for London this morning. The American explorer had nothing to add today to his statement of last night that he had placed the matter of the litigation in the hands of American Ambassador Hill.

Franke was associated with Dr. Frederick Cook in North Polar explorations. He alleges that Peary, London, in 1901, secured his collection of furs and walrus and narwhal teeth as the price for transporting him homeward. Franke demands $10,000 as the value of the Arctic products which he claims to have had handed over to the commander. The suit was brought in the Berlin courts, notice of the action being served upon Peary when he arrived here yesterday to fill a lecture engagement.

AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Officers were elected at the 61st annual session of the American Medical association today. In the section on dermatology a paper by Drs. Theodore Dyer and Ralph Hopkins of New Orleans announced that leprosy is spreading to nearly every state in the union and that no concerted method of caring for lepers is practiced. Officials were accused of neglecting the quarantine laws. The importance of the prevention of infant mortality was urged to the session on preventive medicine and public health.

CIRCUS FAKIRS ARRIVE

The advance guard of the Barnum & Bailey circus—the cane, whip and balloon men—arrived in Lowell this morning and immediately made their way to the office of the police board for the purpose of securing permits to sell their wares tomorrow.

The big show was in Lawrence yesterday and is giving performances at Manchester, N. H., today, but few of the vendors made the trip to the Queen City up the river, for they claim that the fair business has been very poor this year and that business would not warrant the big jump.

The fakirs are taxed $1 for permission to sell their goods in the streets for one day, canes, balloons and lemonade of all colors.

BLOODY MASSACRE

Indian Insurgents Murdered People in Valladolid, Yucatan

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—With telegraph wires cut and operators murdered, others forced to flee for their lives, definite information is lacking as to the present situation at Valladolid, Yucatan, the scene of a bloody massacre by Indian insurgents several days ago. Meagre advice received by the government yesterday estimate the number of killed at 40.

More than 2000 Indians are said to have been engaged in the massacre. The insurgents held Valladolid at last accounts, having fortified themselves in the jail and other buildings.

Federal and state troops and volunteers, numbering more than 2000 men, are about to march on the rebels.

Reports as to the cause of the outbreak are conflicting. Whatever its origin, it appears to have had some semblance of organization, and is said to have been led by political malcontents.

After sacking the building containing the public offices, the rioters turned their attention to the police station, who with many citizens had taken refuge in a building.

Butchery followed. The wife of Regil left her four children and went to the assistance of her husband. Regil was cut down before the eyes of his wife and his body was hacked to pieces.

The wife also is said to have been murdered as were all of the 20 men in the building. Later the six gunnaries in the town met a similar fate. The people were terrified. The mob surged through the town, crying for blood and pillage. Victor Ojed, judge of the first instance, was assassinated. Other victims were Florentino Echevarria, commander of the police, Jose Maria Hernandez, second in command, Pedro Hernandez, mayor of the town, and the treasurer, Jose E. Triay. It is said that Triay was put to death after horrible tortures.

ARMY OFFICERS

To Report at So. Framingham Camp

While the war department is willing to spend money liberally for the comfort of its soldiers, it is also determined to see that officers holding commissions in the various organizations are competent to fill positions they occupy. With this in view schools have been established throughout the country for the education of officers under competent instructors, so that when the time comes for examination these officers will be able to give a good account of themselves before the board.

The school for the officers of the Massachusetts militia will open at the muster field, South Framingham, tomorrow morning, and it is expected over 300 officers will attend. The only officers excused being the pay department, medical officers and chaplains.

In addition to the officers' usual equipment, every captain and lieutenant will have to take with him a rifle and its equipment.

All the officers will live during Friday, Saturday and Sunday under canvas and will have army rations.

Capt. Elton T. Tandy, superintendent of the arsenal, has been appointed post quartermaster, and with a gang of men was actively engaged yesterday in pitching quarters for the officers of the regular army, 15 in number, who are to act as instructors, and for the officers of the M. V. M. Brig. Gen. James G. White, commissary general, has arranged for the mess, which will be served in one of the large mess halls on the grounds, while Brig. Gen. William B. Emery, quartermaster general, is providing every comfort for the officers in the shape of camp equipment.

The camp will be under the command of Brig. Gen. Embury P. Clark of the 1st brigade, with Maj. Walter I. Sanborn, his adjutant general, Maj. Frank P. Williams, 5th infantry, post surgeon.

The program of studies mapped out by the army officers promises to be a strenuous one, as the officers will put in some 15 hours each day in their studies. They include map reading, patrolling, camping, instruction under arms, tactical talks on the rifle and practical talks on camping, field orders, marching, etc.

LOSSES HIS RANK

Praising Rescuer Causes Inspector's Downfall

PROVIDENCE, June 9.—If Ernest Wilkinson had been less active in his efforts to reward properly the man who saved him from drowning last week, he would still be an inspector on the Providence police force instead of a patrolman, to which rank he was reduced yesterday.

This was the way it all happened: On Saturday Wilkinson and his son went fishing. They hired a boat and tried their luck in the waters of the Woonasquatucket. The boat tipped over before they caught a bite.

The youngest swam to shore safely. Wilkinson couldn't swim and his clothing impeded him, so a diver appearing on the scene of the accident appeared a good deal thinner than he has been these many years, when a French Canadian farmer went to his rescue.

The result was that Wilkinson was saved, for which he was very grateful. This is proven by the fact he went so far as to write to Gov. Abraham Foster, who is as ever known as a French Canadian, and told him of the heroic act of his fellow countryman.

This much for history. Yesterday the letter Wilkinson sent Gov. Foster was published. Wilkinson's superior read it. Then the question came to their minds, "What was Wilkinson doing fishing on Woonasquatucket Saturday?"

Evidently they asked Wilkinson the same question and he couldn't give a satisfactory answer, for, according to Wilkinson's superior, he was supposed to be on his post (patrolman's job) at the time he was fishing.

And as a result of all that last night Wilkinson was reduced to the rank of patrolman.

It is not quite known whether the French Canadian hero who saved Wilkinson got his reward or whether Wilkinson cares any more.

THE HIPPODROME

LOWELL'S LATEST OPEN AIR AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISE

Washington park is the scene of great activity these days, and amid the buzz of saws and hundreds of workmen hammering, and building various things, calling for this and that, stands the head of Lowell's Hippodrome, Mr. Carl L. Perin, as cool as can be, directing the different gangs of men, looking over every bit of work done and seeing to it personally that Washington park will be a credit to our city when the doors swing open on next Monday afternoon for the summer season of Perin's Hippodrome.

Mr. Perin was asked by a reporter of this paper if the park would be really a credit to our city. "I build many of these open air amusement resorts, and you take my word for it we will be all completed by next Saturday." To look at him once is sufficient to convince anyone that Mr. Perin means it. He is a man who at first glance will tell the onlooker he was born to rule men and command, and to see him quietly but firmly giving his orders and not once having to refer to any notes or papers, carrying all these things in his mind's eye, is certainly proof of his capability.

The park is being entirely changed and many new features added to it, making it a clean and bright place for the pleasure loving people of Lowell to go to and see a performance, the equal of which has never been seen in our city.

The bill for the opening week is a lengthy one, and every turn on it is one of merit and all headlines, and the admission will be ten cents, giving the patron a two hour and a half show for this nominal price.
